Contents

Notes on contributors xiii

1 Introduction 1
YING MA AND HANS-MICHAEL TRAUTWEIN

2 Physiocracy and the Chinese model 12
STEFAN GAARSMAND JACOBSEN

3 The reception of Adam Smith in East Asia 35
QUNYI LIU

4 Commodities, natural resources, and growth 56
MAURO BOIANOVSKY

5 Yan Fu, individualism, and social order 88
YANG CUI AND EVELYN FORGET

6 Three influential Western thinkers during the 'break-up' period in China 101
GILLES CAMPAGNOLO

7 Chinese tradition meets Western economics 136
OLGA BOROKH

8 He Lian, a founder and practitioner of Chinization of Western economics 158
JIANBO ZHOU, LIU YANG, AND JINGYU FENG
Contents

9 Chinese economics students in the USA – with a focus on doctoral dissertations prior to 1949  175
  JINWEN ZOU AND LIZHI SONG

10 Development theory and transition  195
  MASSIMO RICOTTILLI

11 Thirty years of disputes on China’s economic reform  217
  XIBAO GUO AND PING ZHANG

12 Northian perspectives on China’s economic reform  235
  WEISEN LI AND HANS-MICHAEL TRAUTWEIN

13 Chinese reform and schools of thought in Western economics  255
  MATTHIAS KLAES AND YI ZHANG

14 The East Asian Development Model reconsidered  274
  YONGQIN WANG

15 The changing status of Western economics in China  295
  FUQIAN FANG

16 The transmission of heterodox economics in China, 1949–2009  306
  LIN ZHANG AND YINGLI XU

Name index  327
Subject index  330