CONTENTS

The Hanse in Medieval and Early Modern Europe:
   An Introduction ............................................................. 1
   Justyna Wubs-Mrozewicz

   Map of the Hanse in 1554 according to the London
   Steelyard Statutes ......................................................... 26
   Guide to Hanse Research .................................................. 30

The City of Lübeck and the Internationality of Early
   Hanseatic Trade .............................................................. 37
   Carsten Jahnke

The London Steelyard's Certifications of Membership
   1463–1474 and the European Distribution Revolution ................. 59
   Stuart Jenks

   Appendix I: “Day Books”: The Example of George Mixstow’s
   Ship ................................................................................. 98
   Appendix II: Henry VI's Order of 16 November 1428 ............... 101
   Appendix III: Edward IV’s Order of 10 May 1465 ................. 105

Der ehrbaren Hanse-Städte See-Recht: Diversity and Unity in Hanseatic Maritime Law .................................................... 109
   Edda Frankot

Sale of Goods around the Baltic Sea in the Middle Ages ............ 129
   Sofia Gustafsson

Hansards and the 'Other'. Perceptions and Strategies in Late
   Medieval Bergen ............................................................. 149
   Justyna Wubs-Mrozewicz

That Well-Grounded Error: Bruges as Hansestadt ................. 181
   James M. Murray
Small is Beautiful: Why Small Hanseatic Firms Survived in the Late Middle Ages .......................................................... 191
Stuart Jenks

Business as Usual? A Critical Investigation on the Hanseatic
Pound Toll Lists ............................................................ 215
Mike Burkhardt

Mobility and Business Enterprise in the Hanseatic World:
Trade Networks and Entrepreneurial Techniques
(Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries) .................................. 239
Marie-Louise Pelus-Kaplan

Conclusion ................................................................. 255
Stuart Jenks

Game Theory and the Hanse: An Epilogue .......................... 283
Justyna Wubs-Mrozewicz

List of Contributors ..................................................... 289
Index ................................................................. 291