CONTENTS

THE SECRET OF CHINA'S DESTINY

PAGE 11

BY PHILIP JAFFE

CHINA'S DESTINY

BY CHIANG KAI-SHEK

CHAPTER

i. Growth and Development of the Chinese Nation 29

II. The Origins of National Humiliation and Sources of the Revolution 44

1. Political, Social, and Cultural Decline in the Ch'ing [Manchu] Dynasty and Fundamental Errors of Its Domestic Policy 44

2. The Conclusion of the Unequal Treaties and the People's Reaction 51

3. Lessons from the Accomplishments and Failures of the 1911 Revolution 67

III. The Deepening Effects of the Unequal Treaties 76

1. Their Effects on Government and Law 76

2. Their Effects on Economics 83

3. Their Effects on Society 87

4. Their Effects on Ethics 90

5. Their Effects on Psychology 94

6. National Self-Examination and Self-Criticism 101
CONTENTS

iv. From the Northern Expedition to the War of Resistance

1. Reorganization of the Kuomintang and Steps for Carrying Out the Three People’s Principles
2. The Success of the Northern Expedition and Lessons of the Revolution
3. Internal Difficulties and External Perils Following the Transfer of the National Capital to Nanking
4. Internal Effects of the War of Resistance
5. The International Setting of the War of Resistance—An Account of the Military Strategy and Diplomatic Battles before and During the War of Resistance

v. Contents of the New Equal Treaties and the Essentials of the Future Work of National Reconstruction

1. The Abandonment of the Unequal Treaties and the Meaning of the New Equal Treaties
2. Future Direction of the People’s Efforts and Essentials in the Work of Reconstruction

vi. Fundamental Problems of Revolutionary National Reconstruction

1. The Problem of Establishing a Philosophy of Revolution and Reconstruction
2. The Problem of Reforming Social and Academic Traditions
3. The Problem of Fostering the Concepts of Freedom and Government by Law

vii. The Artery of China’s Revolutionary Reconstruction and the Critical Questions Determining Her Destiny
CONTENTS

viii. China's Destiny and the Future of the World 230
Conclusion 236

CHINESE ECONOMIC THEORY
BY CHIANG KAI-SHEK

Introduction 241

i. Definition and Scope of Chinese Economic Theory 243

ii. Differences Between Chinese and Western Economic Theories 251
   1. Economic Theories of Ancient China 251
   2. Western Economic Theories 259

iii. Economic Duties of the State in Ancient China 264
   1. Satisfying the People's Wants 267
   2. Restricting the People's Wants 270
   3. Protecting the People 273

iv. Economic Principles of the Min Sheng Chu I—The People's Livelihood 277
   1. Laissez-faire and Marxism 278
   2. Sun Yat-sen's "Industrial Plan" 285

v. China's Future Economic Ideals 289

COMMENTARY ON CHINA'S DESTINY AND CHINESE ECONOMIC THEORY 295
BY PHILIP JAFFE

Guide to the Pronunciation of Chinese Names 333
Chronology of Chinese Dynasties 335
Index 337