Contents

Acknowledgments vii

1. Introduction: The Neglected Heritage of Texas Labor
   James C. Maroney and Bruce A. Glasrud 1

2. The Early History of Labor Organizations in Texas, 1838–1876
   James V. Reese 27

3. On Empire's Shore: Free and Unfree Workers in Galveston, Texas, 1840–1860
   Robert S. Shelton 47

4. The Cowboy Strike of 1883: Its Causes and Meaning
   Robert E. Zeigler 65

5. The Radical Potential of the Knights' Biracialism: The 1885–1886 Gould System Strikes and Their Aftermath
   Theresa A. Case 79

   Marilyn D. Rhinehart 109

   George T. Morgan Jr. 141

8. Tenant Farmer Discontent and Socialist Protest in Texas, 1901–1917
   James R. Green 153

9. The Texas-Louisiana Oil Field Strike of 1917
   James C. Maroney 173
9 Opening the Closed Shop: The Galveston Longshoremen's Strike of 1920–1921
JOSEPH ABEL 185

10 Tejana Radical: Emma Tenayuca and the San Antonio Labor Movement during the Great Depression
ZARAGOSA VARGAS 219

11 Unionizing the Trinity Portland Cement Company in Dallas, Texas, 1934–1939, GREGG ANDREWS 245

12 Discord in Dallas: Auto Workers, City Fathers, and the Ford Motor Company, 1937–1941
GEORGE N. GREEN 267

13 Texas Homeworkers in the Depression
JULIA KIRK BLACKWELDER 281

14 Black Texans and Theater Craft Unionism: The Struggle for Racial Equality
ERNEST OBADELE-STARKS 297

15 The Failed Promise of Wartime Opportunity for Mexicans in the Texas Oil Industry
EMILIO ZAMORA 315

16 No Gold Watch for Jim Crow's Retirement: The Abolition of Segregated Unionism at Houston's Hughes Tool Company
MICHAEL R. BOTSON JR. 343

17 "Better to Die on Our Feet than to Live on Our Knees": United Farm Workers and Strikes in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, 1966–1967
MARY MARGARET MCALENN AMBERSON 367

YOLANDA G. ROMERO 399

Selected Bibliography
Contributors
Index
405
421
425