The Routledge Companion to Accounting Communication

Edited by Lisa Jack, Jane Davison and Russell Craig
Contents

List of figures vii
List of tables viii
Notes on contributors ix
Foreword xii
Acknowledgements xiv

PART 1
The landscape 1

1 The power of accounting communication 3
   Lisa Jack, Jane Davison and Russell Craig

2 The accounting communication research landscape 7
   Lee Parker

3 An historical perspective from the work of Chambers 26
   Frank Clarke, Graeme Dean and John Richard Edwards

PART 2
A variety of media: beyond numbers 43

4 The language of corporate annual reports: a critical discourse analysis 45
   Theo van Leeuwen

5 Visual perspectives 58
   Jane Davison

6 Perspectives on the role of metaphor 76
   Joel Amernic

7 Rhetoric and the art of memory 94
   Paolo Quattrone
Contents

8 Accounting narratives and impression management 109
   Niamh M. Brennan and Doris M. Merkl-Davies

PART 3
Contemporary and professional issues 133

9 Phantasmagoria, sustain-a-babbling in social and environmental reporting 135
   Markus J. Milne

10 Accounting communication inside organizations 154
   Lisa Jack

11 Communication apprehension and accounting education 166
   Trevor Hassall, José L. Arquero, John Joyce and José M. González

12 Review of US pedagogic research and debates on writing in accounting 177
   Sue Ravenscroft and Abhi Rao

13 Is XBRL a 'killer app'? 191
   Joanne Locke

PART 4
Construction of meaning 211

14 A Big Four practitioner view 213
   John Hitchins and Laura Taylor

15 Argument, audit and principles-based accounting 228
   Wally Smieliasuskas

16 A critical perspective 242
   Christine Cooper

Index 254