THE OXFORD HANDBOOK OF

ADAM SMITH
Table of Contents

Abbreviations
List of Contributors

Introduction
Adam Smith: An Outline of Life, Times, and Legacy
Christopher J. Berry
Smith’s Life (1723–90)
Scotland in the age of Smith
The Enlightenment: Scotland and beyond
Legacy and reputation

Part I Adam Smith: Heritage and Contemporaries

1. Adam Smith: A Biographer’s Reflections
   Nicholas Phillipson

2. Newtonianism and Adam Smith
   Leonidas Montes
   Newtonianism
   Newton’s Reception
   Smith’s Newtonianism
   Conclusion

3. Adam Smith and Rousseau: Enlightenment and Counter-Enlightenment
   Dennis C. Rasmussen
   Spreading ‘enlightenment’
   Markets and morals
   Liberty and citizenship
   The progress of society

4. Adam Smith and Early-Modern Thought
   Christopher J. Berry
   Descartes (1596–1650)
   Bacon (1561–1626)
Table of Contents

Hobbes (1588-1679)
Locke (1632-1704)
Pufendorf (1632-94)
Harrington (1611-77)
Shaftesbury (1671-1713) and Mandeville (1670-1732)
Hutcheson (1694-1746)
Conclusion

PART II  ADAM SMITH ON LANGUAGE, ART, AND CULTURE

5. Adam Smith's Aesthetics
   Catherine Labio
   'The history of astronomy', or why the imagination matters
   'Of the external senses': perception, language, meaning
   The essay on the imitative arts: the case for disparity
   The lectures on rhetoric and belles lettres, or why character matters
   Lectures on jurisprudence, or the institutionalization of art and literature
   The theory of moral sentiments: aesthetics, ethics, and economics
   The wealth of nations: (un)productive labour
   Conclusion

6. Adam Smith as Critic
   James Chandler

7. Adam Smith: History and Poetics
   Michael C. Amrozowicz

8. Adam Smith on Language and Rhetoric:
   The Ethics of Style, Character, and Propriety
   C. Jan Swearingen
   Rhetoric and character
   Language
   Histories: speech, style, and character
   Legacies
PART III ADAM SMITH AND MORAL PHILOSOPHY

   Christel Fricke
   Introduction: conscience in the Theory of Moral Sentiments
   Moral education, the sympathetic process, and naïve moral judgment
   Conscientious moral self-judgment and the explicit concern for impartiality and praiseworthiness
   Conscientious moral self-judgment
   Conscience, virtue, and the problem of erroneous moral judgment
   The 'wise and virtuous'
   Conclusion

10. Adam Smith and the Limits of Sympathy
    Duncan Kelly
    Authority and utility
    Imagination
    Propriety and sympathetic judgment
    Conclusion

11. Adam Smith and Virtue
    Ryan Patrick Hanley
    Smith's eclectic virtue theory
    Smith on the ethical virtues
    Smith on the intellectual virtues
    The wise and virtuous man and the pursuit of perfection

12. Adam Smith and Self-Interest
    Eugene Heath
    Self-preservation, selfishness, and self-interest
    Self-love and self-interest
    Self-love and the corruption of moral perception
    Self-interest and commerce
    Prudence and ambition
PART IV ADAM SMITH AND ECONOMICS

13. Adam Smith on Labour and Capital
   TONY ASPROMOURGOS
   Division of labour 268
   The concept of capital 270
   Capital accumulation and economic development 272
   Productive versus unproductive labour 275
   Wages and profits 278
   Economic policy 282
   Legacy 285

14. Adam Smith on Value and Prices
   NERIO NALDI
   Two meanings of value 292
   Real price and real measure of exchangeable value 293
   The component parts of price 298
   Natural price, market price, and effectual demand 302

15. Adam Smith on Money, Banking, and the Price Level
   HUGH ROCKOFF
   The money supply 307
   The weakness of a fractional reserve banking system 309
   Small notes 311
   The Ayr Bank and the Crisis of 1772 314
   The real bills doctrine 317
   Usury laws 318
   The role of the Bank of England 319
   Bank regulation: the bottom line 321
   Smith's macroeconomic views 322
   Conclusion 329

16. Commercial Relations: From Adam Smith to Field Experiments
   MARIA PIA PAGANELLI
   Markets fostering morality 334
   Morality fostering markets 340
   Negative consequences of markets on morality 343
   A testable hypothesis 344
   Conclusion 347
PART V ADAM SMITH ON HISTORY AND POLITICS

17. Adam Smith: Theorist of Corruption

Spiros Tegos

- The butcher, the brewer, and the courtier: the issue of obsequiousness
- Moderate virtues and obsequiousness
- Endemic commercial corruption
  - Commerce and martial spirit
  - Division of labour and alienation
- Commercial manners and the corruption of moderate virtues
- The coxcomb and the poor man's son
- Concluding remarks

18. Adam Smith and the State: Language and Reform

David M. Levy and Sandra J. Peart

- Does reform make sense in Smith's system?
- Reading Smith
- The texts
- A necessary scarcity
  - Hume on contingent property
- Diffusion of imperative to act justly
- Leadership and time
- Time and habit explain the outcome of a political process
- Reform as social stoicism
- Conclusion

19. Adam Smith and the Law

Fabrizio Simon

- Rights and law in Smithian jurisprudence
- The role of justice
- The anti-utilitarianism and anti-contractualism of Smithian jurisprudence
- Smith and modern law and economics
- Conclusion

20. Adam Smith on Empire and International Relations

Edwin van de Haar

- Main influences
- On empire
- Smith on international relations
- Adam Smith and international relations theory
PART VI ADAM SMITH ON SOCIAL RELATIONS

21. Adam Smith on Civility and Civil Society 443
Richard Boyd
Civil society in Smith's time and ours 443
The genealogy of 'civil society' 445
Civil society and manners 449
Civil society and justice 451
Civil society and citizenship 454
Civil society and the division of labour 455
The ambivalence of civil society 458
Conclusion 460

22. Adam Smith on Religion 464
Gavin Kennedy
Childhood 465
Oxford 465
The significance of his mother 467
A revealing incident in 1785 468
Religion in Smith's earliest essay 468
Religion in the wealth of nations 470
Theology in moral sentiments 473
Closing thoughts 481

23. Adam Smith on Equality 485
Samuel Fleischacker
Is Smith an egalitarian? 485
Varieties of egalitarianism 496

24. Adam Smith on Women 501
Maureen Harkin
The Wealth of Nations 502
Lectures on jurisprudence 504
Theory of moral sentiments 513
PART VII ADAM SMITH: LEGACY AND INFLUENCE

25. Adam Smith and Marx
   Spencer J. Pack
   Marx's general attitude towards Smith
   Value theory
   Money and capital
   Character
   The state and change
   Conclusion

26. Adam Smith and the New Right
   Craig Smith
   The New Right
   Friedman
   Buchanan
   Hayek
   Hume
   Conclusion

27. Adam Smith: Methods, Morals, and Markets
   Tom Campbell
   Methods
   Morals
   Markets
   Conclusion

28. The Contemporary Relevance of Adam Smith
   Amartya Sen
   Early reception of Smith
   Uses and abuses of Smith
   'Prodigals' and 'projectors'
   Smith and the role of the state
   Smith's ideas on reasoned choice and rationality
   Smith on human behaviour
   Smith on the pursuit of justice
   Global reasoning in the contemporary world and the impartial spectator
   A concluding remark

Index