Branding the Nation
The Global Business of National Identity

Melissa Aronczyk
CONTENTS

List of Illustrations viii
Acknowledgments xi

Introduction 1
1. Nation and Brand: Keywords for the Twenty-First Century 15
2. The New and Improved Nation: How Culture Became Competitive 34
3. Living the Brand: The Identity Strategies of Nation-Branding Consultants 63
4. Creative Tension, Normal Nation: Branding National Identity in Poland 82
5. From Bland to Brand: Transforming Canadian Culture 107
6. Trading Spaces: The World Tour 127

Conclusion 165

Notes 177
References 203
Index 219
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

0.1 "Before," Saint Paul Street, Montreal, 2000 6
0.2 "After," Saint Paul Street, Montreal, 2000 6
1.1 Land of Ideas nation branding campaign for Germany, 2006 18
1.2 Rebranding the Middle East, World Economic Forum, 2006 19
1.3 Hypertiles at the World Economic Forum, 2006 20
1.4 Simon Anholt with Michelle Bachelet, Chile’s former president 21
2.1 Spanish Tourism Institute “Sol de Miró” logo 35
2.2 La Caixa Savings Bank logo 37
2.3 Stakeholder model of the World Economic Forum 48
2.4 McGraw Hill advertisement, 1958 54
2.5 Ernst & Young European Attractiveness survey, 2008 57
2.6 Ernst & Young Image/reality ranking, 2006 58
3.1 Garry Trudeau’s Berzerkistan 62
3.2 Location of nation-branding consultants and location of client countries, 2007 66
3.3 Porter Diamond and Anholt Hexagon 71
3.4 Visualizing the Competitive Identity 72
3.5 Nation Branding Master Class 74
4.1 Reality versus perception of Poland 93
4.2 The older generation and the younger generation in Poland 98
4.3 Solidarity logo 102
4.4 Web animation, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Poland 104–105

(viii)
6.1 Chile Hace Bien branding campaign poster 136
6.2 Estonia's national style 143
6.3 Georgia's branding campaign posters 146-147
6.4 Sweden's core values 157
6.5 Accidents of history 161
c.1 Protesters in Spain 164
c.2 Datamonitor industry profile of global advertising, 2011 166