The Rediscovery of Classical Economics
Adaptation, Complexity and Growth

David Simpson
Formerly Professor of Economics, University of Strathclyde, Scotland, UK

NEW THINKING IN POLITICAL ECONOMY

In Association with the Institute of Economic Affairs

Edward Elgar
Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA
Contents

Preface | vi
---|---
1 Introduction | 1
2 Human behaviour | 13
3 Qualitative change and quantitative growth | 28
4 Adaptation, emergence and evolution | 51
5 Self-organisation and complexity | 71
6 Markets, competition and entrepreneurship | 86
7 Specialisation and growth | 105
8 Prosperity and recession | 131
9 Government | 160
10 The rediscovery of classical economics | 179

Bibliography | 195
Index | 206