Irish Economic Development
High-performing EU state or serial under-achiever?

Eoin O’Leary
Contents

List of figures xv
List of tables xviii
Acknowledgements xx

1 Setting the scene, theory and method
The spectacular rise and fall of the Celtic Tiger economy 3
Economic development as business development 4
The method of inquiry 18
Chapter outline 20

2 Overview of Ireland’s economic development record
The evolution of Irish per capita GDP and GNP 25
Changes to Ireland’s employment-population ratio 28
Ireland’s labour productivity performance 33
The performance of Irish regions 50
Conclusion 54

3 Evaluating standard explanations for the Celtic Tiger
Delayed convergence 56
Technological catch-up 63
Export-led growth 66
A case of bad policies obstructing convergence forces? 69
Conclusion 71

4 Industrialization by invitation
Identifying the export base 73
The policy of industrialization by invitation 80
Conclusion 85
Contents

5  Ireland's five internationally competitive sectors
   Analytical and measurement challenges  87
   Profiling the five sectors  91
   Conclusion  111

6  Innovation by invitation
   Ireland's innovation policy  114
   The concept of innovation and its sources  117
   The innovation output of Irish business  121
   Ireland's dichotomous innovation system  124
   The roles of interaction and geography for Irish business innovation  127
   Technology transfer from Irish higher education institutes  129
   Conclusion  131

7  Ireland as a micro-state
   The anatomy of a micro-state: how does small size matter?  135
   Ireland as a tax haven for multinationals  138
   The importance of being unimportant  142

8  The destructive role of special interest groups
   Olson's disease and Ireland  148
   Ireland’s social partnership model  151
   Rent-seeking by special interest groups  153
   Conclusion  163

9  The Irish policymaker's mind-set
   Ireland's economic development strategy  165
   The Irish system of government  169
   A dissociative policy mind-set  172
   Conclusion  176

10 Charting the way ahead
   High-performing EU state  179
   Serial under-achiever  183
   A future research agenda  185

References  187
Index  203