Contents

- Series Foreword vii

1. Introduction 1
   Yin-Wong Cheung and Frank Westermann

I. Measurement Issues 17

2. Measuring International Spillovers during Economic Expansions and Slowdowns 19
   Marco J. Lombardi, Rossella Calvi, and Filippo di Mauro

3. Building a Synchronous Common-Cycle Index for the European Union 37
   Gianluca Cubadda, Barbara Guardabascio, and Alain Hecq

II. Business Cycles and Growth 53

4. No Coupling, No Decoupling, Only Mutual Interdependence: Business Cycles in Emerging versus Mature Economies 55
   Pierre L. Siklos

5. Regionalization versus Globalization 87
   Hideaki Hirata, M. Ayhan Kose, and Christopher Otrok

6. The Role of Household Saving in the Economic Rise of China 131
   Steven Lugauer and Nelson C. Mark
III. Trade Linkages 153

7 The Rise of South-South Trade: Does It Mean Less Dependence on the North? 155
Gabor Pula and Tuomas A. Peltonen

8 Estimating Foreign Value-Added in Mexico’s Manufacturing Exports 169
Justino De La Cruz, Robert B. Koopman, Zhi Wang, and Shang-Jin Wei

9 On the Persistence of Trade Imbalances: Evidence from Europe 213
Helge Berger and Volker Nitsch

IV. The Role of Exchange Rates 233

10 China, the United States, and Europe after the Great Recession: Has Anything Changed? 235
Michael Dooley

11 The International Role of the Dollar: Does It Matter If It Changes? 243
Linda S. Goldberg

12 The Penn Effect: Decoupling and Recoupling in the Price-Income Relationship? 263
Eiji Fujii

Contributors 293
Index 295