Promotion and Improvement of the Regional Industrial Promotion System

Jong-Seok Jung, Ha-Yool Song, Young-Soo Kim, Chan-Jun Kim

December 2011
Contents

Foreword ................................................................. 3
Summary ................................................................. 17

Chapter 1. Introduction ............................................. 37
1. Summary of Study ................................................. 37
   (1) Background and Objective of Study ...................... 37
   (2) Scope and Method of Study ................................ 44
   (3) Contents of the Study ..................................... 47
2. Definitions of Key Words ....................................... 48
3. Standpoint of the Study ........................................ 52

Chapter 2. Status and Assignments of the Regional Industrial Promotion Project ........................................ 57
1. Concept and Scope of the Regional Industrial Promotion Project .............................................. 57
   (1) Concept of the Regional Industrial Promotion Project ......................................................... 57
   (2) Scope of the Regional Industrial Promotion Project ............................................................... 59
2. Status of the Regional Industrial Promotion Project ................................................................. 66
   (1) General Status ................................................ 66
   (2) Status of Project Promotion of Individual Policies ................................................................. 76
3. Limitations and Assignments of the Regional Industrial Promotion Project ................................. 105

Chapter 3. Measures for the Regional-Centered Integrated Project System ................................................. 113
1. Theoretical Basis .................................................... 114
   (1) Logic of Decentralization .................................. 114
   (2) Adjustment Mechanism by Decentralization .......... 117
   (3) Need for Regional Integration and Adjustment in Conveying Policies to Individual Sectors ......... 121
2. Diagnosis and Analysis of Current Project System
   (1) Project System of Current Support Project
   (2) Integrated Promotion Plan at Central Government Level
   (3) Regional Industrial Promotion Plan (Regional Government-Centered Project System)

3. Direction of Promotion

4. Promotion Method
   (1) Structural Reorganization of Regional Development Special Account (Economic Region Development Sub-account)
   (2) Construction of Integrated Governance at the Regional Level

---

Chapter 4. Establishment of the Support System Tailored to Regional Demand

1. Analysis on Support Measures and Management Methods

2. Analysis of the Relationship of Regional Business Characters and Support Measures
   (1) Background and Purpose of Analysis
   (2) Analysis Theory
   (3) Variables Component and Analysis Model
   (4) Relationship between the Characteristics of Regional Company, Policy Measures, and the Outcome

3. Direction on the Policy

---

Chapter 5. Introduction Plan of the Outcome Management System of the Regional Industrial Promotion Project

1. Outline of Outcome Management for Project and Performance Indicators
   (1) Concept of Strategic Outcome Management of Project
   (2) Purpose and Types of Performance Indicators

2. Current Status of the Outcome Management System on Regional Industrial Promotion Project
(1) Outcome Indicators Framework of Regional Industrial Promotion Project ................................................. 242
(2) Evaluation System of the Regional Industrial Promotion Project .............................................................. 247
(3) Output Evaluation System of Regional Development Project
   (Regional Development Special Account) ................................. 249
3. Need for Reorganization and Basic Direction ................................. 254
4. Promotion Measures .................................................................. 257
   (1) Establishment of the Synthetic Evaluation System based on Effectiveness ............................................. 257
   (2) Enhancement of the Self-evaluating Function of Region Autonomy ......................................................... 260
   (3) Establishment of the Regional Integrated Evaluation System ................................................................. 262

Chapter 6. General Policy Suggestions and Future Assignments ................................................................. 265
1. General Policy Suggestions ................................................................. 265
   (1) Phased Promotion Tasks for Policy Process ........................................... 265
   (2) Additional Supplementary Tasks ....................................................... 268
2. Further Study Assignment ................................................................. 271

References ................................................................. 273