The Balancing Act-
Cooperating with Competitors

Marlene Johansson
Table of Contents for part I

Acknowledgement iii
Abstract v
Table of Contents for part I vii
Tables in Part I viii
Appended Papers in Part II ix
Introduction 1
  Industry Dynamics and Networks Change Shapes Coopetition among Firms 1
  Strategic Dilemmas in Coopetition 5
Theoretical Framework 8
  A Resource-based View 8
  A Relation-based View 11
  The Network Embeddedness of Firms’ Cooperative and Competitive Strategies 13
  Coopetition – The Duality of Cooperation and Competition 14
  Coopetition - Drivers, Dynamics and Outcome 16
  Exploring Capabilities and Acts of Balance in Coopetition – Relating the Research Papers to the Body of Literature 19
Methods 22
  Research Design and Settings 22
  Data Collection 26
  Analysis 30
Overview of Research Papers in Part II 34
  Paper 1: Dynamics of Supply Chains, a Study of SMEs in Overlapping Networks 34
  Paper 2: Clashes between Contending Market Regimes, a Challenge for Firms in Converging Industries. 36
  Paper 3: A Study on Balancing Cooperation and Competition in Coopetitive Relationships through Bridging and Bonding 38
  Paper 4: Interaction in Dynamic Networks: Role-playing and its Implications for Innovation. 40
  Paper 5: Managing Coopetition in Dynamic Network to Create Opportunities for Small Firms 42
Concluding Discussion and Suggestions for Future Research 44
  Contributions to Literature of Capabilities to Balance Strategic Dilemmas in Coopetition 44
  The Act of Balancing Interactions, Roles and Expectations 44
  The Act of Balancing Power and Dependency through Portfolios of Relationships 47
  The Act of Balancing Temporalities in Coopetition 48
  Implications of Coopetition Capabilities on Innovation and Creation of Business Opportunities 50
Conclusions 51
Limitations and Suggestions for further research 52
References 55