POWER-SECTOR REFORM AND REGULATION IN AFRICA
Lessons from Kenya, Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia, Namibia and Ghana
Joseph Kapika and Anton Eberhard
Contents

Figures and tables v
Acronyms and abbreviations vii
Acknowledgements ix
About the authors x

Introduction 1

Chapter 1
Kenya: Enabling private-sector participation in electricity generation 21

Chapter 2
Tanzania: Learning the hard way 51

Chapter 3
Uganda: Brave reforms and new growth 85

Chapter 4
Zambia: Looking east for additional generation capacity 127

Chapter 5
Namibia: Seeking independent power producers 165

Chapter 6
Ghana: Pursuing the standard model for power-sector reform 195

References 235
Index 244