Contents

Vorwort
Jürgen Hğgeforster 8

Section 1: Corporate Social Responsibility in the Baltic Sea Region

Corporate Social Responsibility in Times of Financial and Economic Crisis
Michał Wojak 14

Ehrbares Banking zwischen Staatsvertrauen und Markversagen
Reiner Brüggestrat 21

The Assessment of the Integration of Public and Corporate Social Responsibility in Lithuania
Anietas Ignotas, A. Pocius, Romualdas Ginevičius 30

Institutional Conditions of Corporate Social Responsibility in Poland
Darina Pieńkowska 50

Corporate Social Responsibility in Enterprises in the Podlaskie Voivodship
Maciej Muczyński 66

The Situation of Young Mothers in the Polish Labour Market
Anita Richter-Każmierska 77

Women's Activity on the Polish Labour Market – the Gender Perspective
Adam Tomanek 92

Changes of Employment Structures in the Polish Labour Market after the EU Accession Ewa Wędrowska, Jarosław Oczki 115

CSR in Russia
Olga Maksimova 129

Social Responsibility in University Management:
The Case of Saint-Petersburg State University of Service and Economics
Elena Viktorova 136

Socially Responsible Education as a Chance for Innovation Growth –
Future Challenge for High Schools in Poland
Monika Zająkowska 154
Corporate Social Responsibility in Hungary’s SME Sector
Tamás Rettich

CSR Experience in Denmark
Karsten B. Vester

Section 2: Strategies of CSR Promotion for SMEs

Corporate Social Responsibility in the Knowledge Based Economy
Joanna Czerna-Grygiel

CSR – a Small Business Approach to Increased Profit
Harry Bjerke

Implementing a CSR Strategy in a Small Enterprise – a Case Study
Piotr Grudowski, Piotr Walentynowicz

CSR als Wettbewerbsfaktor – Good Practice im Hamburger Handwerk
Elke Keller

Das Hamburger Familiensiegel als gutes Beispiel für CSR in kleinen und mittleren Unternehmen
Manuela Badur

CSR in Polish SMEs from the Women Perspective
Magdalena Popowska

Corporate Social Responsibility in Reference to Environmental Statements within the EMAS System in Small and Medium Enterprises
Małgorzata Wiśniewska, Piotr Grudowski

CSR für kleine und mittlere Unternehmen im Ostseeraum am Beispiel der Fortbildung der Berufsakademie Hamburg
Uwe Schumann

Enterprise Partnerships with the Education Sector: Beyond Short-Term Benefits
Vita Žunda

The Successful Case of Social Cooperative 50+ as an Example of Value Creation
Coopetition as an Activating Factor for Innovation in the EU
Magda Starnawska, Magdalena Olczyk

Was trägt Unternehmer und Mitarbeiter durch Krisen?
Jürgen Hogeforster
Section 3: Women’s Entrepreneurship

Are Women Important for Economic Development? Women’s Participation in the Labour Market and their Contribution to Economic Growth in 83 Countries
Ewa Lechman, Anna Okonowicz 310

Seven Reasons Why Women’s Entrepreneurship is Worth Promoting in the Mare Balticum Countries
Britt-Marie S. Torstensson, Sandra Misiak, Marta Hozer-Koźmiel 327

Differentiation of Patterns of Self-Employment in the Female Population in Baltic Sea Region Countries
Ewa Wedrowska, Jaroslaw Oczki 351

Women’s Entrepreneurship in Poland – Opportunities and Barriers According to Young Women Entering the Labour Market
Katarzyna Stankiewicz 369

Female Entrepreneurs and Corporate Leaders in Finland
Sirpa Sandelin 381

Gender Development in Belarus - Problems and Prospects
Andrei Gennadievich Praronsky, Natalia Petrona Chetyrbock 396

Development of Socially Responsible Women’s Business in Lithuania
Romualdas Ginevičius, Vytas Navickas, Anietas Iguotas 409

Women’s Professional Activity and Entrepreneurship in Poland – Europe 2020 Strategy Perspective
Marzena Grzesiak 422

Enhancement of Female Entrepreneurship for Improving Individual Well-Being in Latvia
Aija Graudina, Tatjana Volkova 437

Results of the 8th Hanseatic Conference

Corporate Social Responsibility and Women’s Entrepreneurship: Results of the Working Sessions of the 8th Hanseatic Conference
Philipp Jarke 450