Feral Information Systems Development: Managerial Implications

Donald Vance Kerr
University of the Sunshine Coast, Australia

Kevin Burgess
Cranfield University, UK

Luke Houghton
Griffith University, Australia

A volume in the Advances in Business Information Systems and Analytics (ABISA) Book Series
Table of Contents

Preface .................................................................................................................... xiii

Chapter 1
Feral Government? The Limitations of Critical Success Factors in the Context of Major Government IT Projects .............................................................................................................. 1

Annie Maddison, Cranfield University, UK

Chapter 2
Feral Information Systems and Workarounds: The Present Position ................................................................. 23

Donald Vance Kerr, University of the Sunshine Coast, Australia

Chapter 3
Feral Systems as Institutional Phenomena: A Framework for Analyzing Persistent Computer Workarounds ...................................................................................................................... 43

Nelson King, American University of Beirut, Lebanon
Bijan Azad, American University of Beirut, Lebanon

Chapter 4
Feral Systems and Enterprise Resource Planning Systems: Content and Dynamics ......................................................... 68

Christian Koch, Chalmers University of Technology, Sweden
Donald Vance Kerr, University of the Sunshine Coast, Australia

Chapter 5
Sensemaking as Feral Information Systems: Conceptual and Framework Development ............................... 90

Luke Houghton, Griffith University, Australia
Dale MacKrell, University of Canberra, Australia

Chapter 6
Money: The Root of All Evil? ........................................................................................... 109

Sarah Craig, University of the Sunshine Coast, Australia