REPRESENTATIONS OF GLOBAL POVERTY
Aid, Development and International NGOs

NANDITA DOGRA

FOREWORD BY STANLEY COHEN

I.B. TAURIS
LONDON - NEW YORK
CONTENTS

Figures x
Images xi
Abbreviations xiii
Acknowledgements xv
Foreword xix

1 Introduction 1
   International NGOs and representations 3
   Global poverty, world history and representations of ‘Others’: Colonialism, Orientalism and Development 9
   Methods and terminologies 17
   Chapter outlines 22

Part I – Difference and Distance

   Introduction 25
   Overview of INGOs’ annual messages: 2005/6 27

2 Cast of Characters 31
   Innocent children 33
   Deserving ‘Third World women’ 39
   ‘Givers’ and ‘takers’ 57
      Active–Passive 57
      Giver–Receiver 61
   Conclusion 63
3 Distant Spaces 64
   Lands of famine and disaster 64
   The rural–urban divide 67
   Conclusion 73

4 Global Poverty – Causes and Solutions 74
   Myths of ‘internal’ causes 75
      Corruption 75
      Overpopulation 78
      Violence 81
   ‘External’ causes – Mother Nature and medicalisation 82
   Development as easy solutions 87
   Conclusion 92

Part II – Oneness

5 One Humanity 95
   Humanism and cosmopolitanism 95
   Human rights 103
   Contesting myths – shared histories and structures 108
   Distancing humanity – the power of dualism and fetishism 118

6 Uniform First World – NGO Perspectives 125
   A limited debate – the ‘negative’/‘positive’ divide 126
   Institutional isomorphism – professionalisation, marketisation and branding 135
   Decontextualisation and dehistoricisation of messages 140
   One market – cultural or institutional denial? 145
   Conclusion 151
PART III — REFLEXIVITY

Introduction 155

7 Lives of Others — Audience Responses 157
INGOs and the genre of charity messages 159
Connecting ‘self’ with ‘others’ 165
History, knowledge and emotions 171
Porous boundaries of personal and collective 177
Conclusion 183

8 Towards Reflexive Understandings 186
Distant lives, still voices 187
Implications for NGO management 189
Beyond ‘the human’ 191

Annex I: Comparison of methods of textual & visual analysis 195
Notes 197
Bibliography 210
Index 223