Contents

INTRODUCTION: SEINSVERGESSENHEIT AND MONEY 1

PART ONE: THE PHILOSOPHY OF FINANCE

1. ANALYZING FINANCIAL MARKETS 19
   The Real of Value – 20; Desire in the Market – 28;
   The Fantasy of the Market – 30; Making Money in Financial Markets – 34; Technical Analysis and Fundamental Analysis – 35; The Fantasy of Beating
   the Market – 39

2. MODERN FINANCE AND THE FANTASY OF THE EFFICIENT MARKET 47
   The Efficient Market Hypothesis – 48; The Impossibility of Speculation – 53; The Copernican Revolution of Finance – 55; The Real as Risk – 58; Probability as Symbolization – 62; The Fantasy of Joining the Market – 64;
   Pricing Fantasies – 68; Vertical Arbitrage – 73

PART TWO: THE PHILOSOPHY OF MONEY

3. ANALYZING MONEY 81
   ‘Money does not exist’ – 83; The Traumatic Constitution of Money: From $ to $ – 85; Making Money out of Gold – 90; The Value of Gold Is Priceless – 86; Making Money by Law – 100; You Must (Not) Make Money! – 104

4. CREDIT MONEY AND THE IDEOLOGY OF BANKING 115
   Money as Debt – 116; It Owes You – 120; A Bank Is Not
   (a) Fair – 124; As Good as Money in the Bank – 131;
   The Fantasy of Fractional Reserve Banking – 137;
   Believer of Last Resort – 142; Dirty Money – 147
PART THREE: THE AGE OF POST-CREDIT MONEY

5. MONEY WITHOUT CASH
   The End of Money without Gold – 155; The Exorbitant Privilege of the Dollar, or, $ as objet petit a – 162; Banking Beyond the Money Multiplier – 167; The Interbank Money Market – 176; Money out the Discount Window – 183; From Credit to Post-Credit Money – 189

6. THE FINANCIALIZATION OF MONEY
   'Debt Is the Oxygen of Financialization' – 193; $1,200,000,000,000,000 – 197; Risk as Real – 203; Arbitrage and Market Efficiency – 208; Unknown Knowns of Derivatives Markets – 216; Money and Derivatives – 229; Supply and Desire for Post-Credit Money – 233; 'Keynesianism or Monetarism? Yes, Please!' – 243

CONCLUSION: LIFE AFTER DEBT – REVOLUTION IN THE AGE OF FINANCIAL CAPITALISM

GLOSSARY OF FINANCIAL TERMS
BIBLIOGRAPHY
INDEX