

BANK FOR INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS

BIS Papers

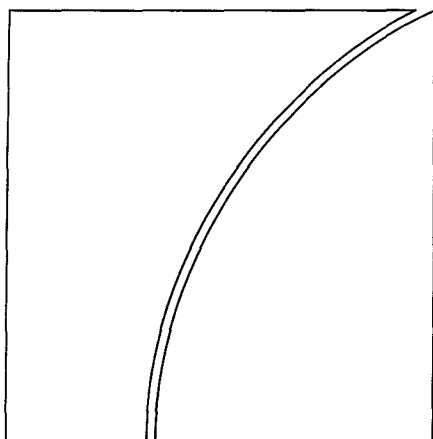

No 77

Globalisation, inflation and monetary policy in Asia and the Pacific

Proceedings from the People's Bank of China-BIS
Research Conference on "Globalisation and inflation dynamics in Asia and the Pacific"

Monetary and Economic Department

March 2014

Contents

Foreword	iii
List of participants	vii
Programme	xi
Opening remarks
Zhou Xiaochuan	1
Session I
Inflation forecasts in Asia and the Pacific: performance, disagreement and spillovers
Pierre L Siklos	5
Comments on Pierre Siklos' paper
Richard Dennis	31
Measuring economic slack in Asia and the Pacific
James Morley	35
Comments on James Morley's paper
Jun Il Kim	51
Keynote address
Is inflation (or deflation) "always and everywhere" a monetary phenomenon? My intellectual journey in central banking
Masaaki Shirakawa	57
Session II
Real globalisation and price spillovers in Asia and the Pacific
Raphael A Auer and Aaron Mehrotra	81
Comments on Raphael Auer and Aaron Mehrotra's paper
Toshitaka Sekine	91
Responding to exchange rates in a globalised world
Michael B Devereux and James Yetman	97
Comments on Michael Devereux and James Yetman's paper
Ippei Fujiwara	119
Session III
Has Asian emerging market monetary policy been too procyclical when responding to swings in commodity prices?
Andrew Filardo and Marco Lombardi	129
Comments on Andrew Filardo and Marco Lombardi's paper
Luis A V Catão	155

Inflation and China’s monetary policy reaction function: 2002–2013 Eric Girardin, Sandrine Lunven and Guonan Ma	159
Comments on Eric Girardin, Sandrine Lunven and Guonan Ma’s paper Dong He	171
Closing remarks Stephen G Cecchetti	175

Background paper

How anchored are inflation expectations in Asia? Evidence from surveys of professional forecasters Aaron Mehrotra and James Yetman	181
--	-----