Contents

List of Figures xv
List of Tables xvii
Notes on Contributors xix

1. Introduction 1
   Dale Southerton and Alistair Ulph

Part I. Extensions of the Simple Economists’ Model of Consumption

2. Sustainability and the Determinants of Personal Consumption 43
   Partha Dasgupta

3. The Value to the Environmental Movement of the New Literature on the Economics of Happiness 88
   Andrew J. Oswald

   Ann Kinzig and Charles Perrings

5. How Should Benefits and Costs Be Discounted in an Inter-generational Context? 117
   Maureen L. Cropper

Part II. Challenging the Assumption that Individual Consumers Always Act Rationally

6. The Hungry Brain 141
   Paul Fletcher

7. Consuming at the Wrong Rate: Lessons from the Harvard Game 161
   Drazen Prelec

8. The Psychology of Sustainable Consumption 175
   Geoff Beattie and Laura McGuire

xiii
Contents

   of Behavioural Economics Applications to Residential Water Demand
   Ricardo Correia and Catarina Roseta-Palma 196

10. The Politics of Nudge: Dilemmas in Implementing Policies for Sustainable Consumption
    Gerry Stoker 224

Part III. Looking Beyond the Individual Consumer: Socio-Cultural Explanations of Consumption

11. Past and Present: Historical Perspectives on Inequality and Collective Provision in Modern Consumption
    Frank Trentmann 243

12. Sociology, Consumption, and Habit
    Alan Warde 277

13. The Body in Consumption: Perspectives from India
    Harold Wilhite 299

14. Consumer Cultures Past, Present, and Future
    Richard R. Wilk 315

Index 337