SAMOTNE RODZICIELSTWO A ZAGROŻENIE WYKLUCZENIEM SPOŁECZNYM

REDAKCJA NAUKOWA
BOŻENA BALCERZAK-PARADOWSKA

WARSZAWA 2014
CONTENTS

SINGLE PARENTHOOD VS. SOCIAL EXCLUSION RISK

INTRODUCTION ............................................................................................................ 17

Part I
SINGLE PARENTHOOD IN THE LITERATURE OF THE SUBJECT
AND IN STATISTICS ........................................................................................................... 27

Chapter 1
SOCIO-ECONOMIC POSITION OF BROKEN FAMILIES IN POLAND . . . 29
1. Definitions. Direct reasons leading to occurrence of broken families and typology ...................................................................................................................... 29
2. Demographic, social and occupational characteristics of broken families . . . . 32
3. Living standards of broken families ........................................................................ 43
   3.1. Determinants ........................................................................................................ 43
   3.2. Broken families' income ..................................................................................... 47
   3.3. Broken families' expenses .................................................................................. 53
   3.4. Consumption of foodstuffs ................................................................................ 56
   3.5. Housing conditions and possession of durables ................................................ 58 of developmental needs ............................................................................................. 60
   4.1. Childcare problems ............................................................................................ 62
   4.2. Satisfaction of developmental needs of children ................................................ 63
   4.3. Educational needs ............................................................................................. 63
   4.4. Cultural needs .................................................................................................... 65
   4.5. Leisure needs ..................................................................................................... 65
   4.6. Health-related needs ........................................................................................ 66
   Summary ................................................................................................................... 68

Chapter 2
POVERTY AND SOCIAL EXCLUSION OF BROKEN FAMILIES.
STATUS AND DETERMINANTS ....................................................................................... 69
1. Social exclusion – concepts, size, indicators ......................................................... 69
2. Types of exclusion of broken families .................................................................... 72
   2.1. Poverty as a type of financial exclusion of broken families .............................. 72
   2.2. Financial deprivation as a multidimensional poverty ....................................... 75
   2.3. Exclusion from labour market ......................................................................... 76
2.4. Exclusion from social life and from access to social services ........................................... 77
2.5. Other types of exclusion – comparative approach ............................................................. 78
3. Types of exclusion and their geographical coverage by province in Poland ........ 79
4. Poverty and exclusion of broken families in the European Union countries and in Poland – coverage and causes ......................................................................................... 82
5. Status inheritance by young generation .............................................................................. 88
Summary ................................................................................................................................. 90

Chapter 3
FAMILY POLICY ON BROKEN FAMILIES IN POLAND ..................................................... 93
1. Social benefits ....................................................................................................................... 94
   1.1. Family benefits .............................................................................................................. 94
   1.2. Child support and child support benefits ................................................................. 97
   1.3. Survivors' benefits ..................................................................................................... 100
2. Cash benefits paid under social assistance ........................................................................ 102
3. Impact of family benefits on income position and reduction of poverty in the population of single parents ........................................................................................................ 107
   3.1. Socio-demographic characteristics of households of single parents .......... 108
   3.2. Structure of households enjoying benefits by socio-demographic characteristics in 2012 and by type of benefit ........................................................................ 110
   3.3. Income status of households of single parents ....................................................... 114
   3.4. Impact of family benefits on income status and reduction of poverty of families .......................................................................................................................... 117
4. Benefits in kind .................................................................................................................. 122
5. Taxation system ................................................................................................................ 130
6. Access to childcare services ......................................................................................... 132
7. Local governments' activities: support to the employment of single parents (strategic documents, special programmes) ................................................................................. 133
8. NGOs' activities .............................................................................................................. 136
9. Activities of family courts (rulings concerned with family issues, childcare, child support) ...................................................................................................................... 137
Summary ................................................................................................................................. 138

Chapter 4
BROKEN FAMILIES AND FAMILY POLICY IN THE EUROPEAN UNION (EXEMPLIFIED BY SELECTED COUNTRIES) ...................................................... 139
1. Broken families in the European Union – scale and dynamics of phenomenon and its general determinants ........................................................................................................... 139
   1.1. Characteristics of broken families .............................................................................. 143
   1.2. Problems faced by broken families: poverty and social exclusion risks .......... 149
2. Single parenthood in the European Union policy .............................................................. 155
3. National policies towards broken families in selected countries .................................. 162
   3.1. Broken family support system in Ireland ......................................................... 165
3.2. Broken family support system in the United Kingdom .............................................. 167
3.3. Broken family support system in France ................................................................. 168
Summary ....................................................................................................................... 169

Part II
SINGLE PARENTHOOD VS. POVERTY AND SOCIAL EXCLUSION RISKS IN THE LIGHT OF SURVEY FINDINGS ........ 171

Chapter 5
SURVEY OBJECTIVE AND METHODOLOGY ............................................................... 173
1. Survey objectives, scope and research hypotheses ................................................. 173
2. Survey methodology ............................................................................................... 174
   2.1. Survey geographical coverage ........................................................................ 175
   2.2. Research methodology and instruments ......................................................... 176
   2.3. Surveyed sample ............................................................................................. 176
   2.4. Objective scope of qualitative survey ............................................................. 178
3. Characteristics of respondents participating in quantitative survey ...................... 181

Chapter 6
SINGLE PARENTS – WHO ARE THEY, HOW DO THEY LIVE? ..... 189
1. Reasons for single parenthood .............................................................................. 189
2. Position of children ................................................................................................ 191
3. Participation of the other parent in children raising; maintaining relationship, assistance ................................................................. 198
4. Personal position of single parents; future plans .................................................. 203
5. Financial living standards ...................................................................................... 207
Summary i.e.: can we talk about social exclusion in the population of surveyed families? ................................................................. 215

Chapter 7
LIFE STRATEGIES OF SINGLE PARENTS – HOW DO THEY COPE IN DIFFICULT POSITION .................................................... 217
1. Major problems of single parents ......................................................................... 219
2. Own activities taken to improve financial position .............................................. 221
   2.1. Occupational activities of single parents ....................................................... 221
   2.2. Additional efforts taken to improve financial position .................................... 225
3. Support enjoyment i.e. crisis management strategies. Is there any institutional support to single parents' activities? ...................... 230
   3.1. Target group of institutional efforts taken to improve financial position ....... 230
   3.2. Forms of assistance ...................................................................................... 232
   3.3. County labour offices as institutions stimulating activity? ........................ 238
4. Coping with difficulties in childcare and children education .............................. 240
5. Coping with emotional problems by single parents ............................................ 243
6. Community support networks .................................................. 244
7. Evaluation of the assistance system and postulated changes .......... 248
8. Summary – what life strategies are predominant in the population of single parents? .................................................. 251

Chapter 8
SINGLE PARENTS IN EXTREME POSITIONS – RESIDENTS OF SINGLE MOTHERS' HOMES .................................................. 253
1. Residents of single mothers' homes – who are they? ................. 253
   1.1. Socio-demographic characteristics .................................. 253
   1.2. Personal status – life paths to date .................................. 255
   1.3. Background ................................................................. 258
   1.4. Children position ......................................................... 262
   1.5. Reasons for living at Single Mothers' Home ....................... 263
   1.6. Future strategies and plans .......................................... 264
2. Living standards at Single Mothers' Home – what are living standards, how do they live? .................................................. 271
   2.1. Financial conditions of staying at Single Mothers' Home ....... 271
   2.2. Operational principles of Single Mothers' Home ................ 272
   2.3. Relationships among residents ...................................... 277
   2.4. Relationships between Single Mothers' Home residents and personnel .......................................................... 279
3. Assistance for becoming independent – what assistance is granted? ........ 282
   3.1. Responsibilities of Single Mothers' Home ......................... 282
   3.2. Forms of assistance provided by the Single Mothers' Homes covered by the survey ........................................ 283
   3.3. Single Mothers' Home strategies applied to the single mothers to help them to become independent ................................... 289

Chapter 9
SOCIAL WELFARE HOME AS A MAJOR FAMILY POLICY SERVICE PROVIDER TO SINGLE PARENTS ........................................... 293
1. Reasons for providing assistance to single parents .................. 294
2. Single parents as beneficiaries of assistance systems ................ 296
3. Forms of assistance, Adequacy and effectiveness of activities ....... 309
4. Operational principles of social welfare homes ....................... 320
5. Proposed changes in the assistance systems ........................... 326
   5.1. Changes in the socio-economic policy ............................ 326
   5.2. Changes in social and family policy on broken families ....... 328
   5.3. Changes in operational conditions of homes ................... 329
Summary – assistance provided to broken families under the social assistance system ........................................... 332
Chapter 10
ROLE OF COUNTY LABOUR OFFICES IN THE STIMULATION OF OCCUPATIONAL ACTIVITY OF SINGLE PARENTS

1. Scope and forms of support to the unemployed including unemployed single parents under the Act on Labour Market Institutions and Employment Promotion

2. Characteristics of single parents and their attitude towards the stimulation of occupational activity

3. Ways and objectives of contacting County Labour Offices by single parents

4. Forms of assistance extended by County Labour Offices

4.1. Statutory forms of assistance

4.2. Own initiatives of County Labour Offices

5. Operational principles of labour offices

5.1. Basic operational determinants

5.2. Collaboration between County Labour Offices and other institutions

6. Evaluation of effectiveness of systemic solutions and proposed changes

6.1. Assessment of effectiveness of undertaken activities

6.2. Assessment of effectiveness of forms of stimulating occupational activity

6.3. Proposed changes

Summary - assistance to broken families in the field of stimulating their occupational activity

Chapter 11
ACTIVITIES OF NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANISATIONS (NGOS) TAKEN TO ASSIST SINGLE PARENTS

1. Who are the beneficiaries?

1.1. Demographic characteristics of beneficiaries

1.2. Life attitudes and strategies of single parents

2. Ways of requesting assistance from NGOs

3. Reasons for requesting assistance and scale of assistance

4. Assessment of utilisation of granted assistance by the beneficiaries

5. Forms of extended assistance

6. NGOs operational principles

6.1. Operational mechanism of NGOs and applied principles of relationship management with the beneficiaries

6.2. Operational growth barriers in surveyed NGOs

6.3. Collaboration with other institutions

7. Evaluation of systemic activities and proposed changes

7.1. Evaluation of systemic activities

7.2. Proposed changes

Summary - what assistance can be expected by single parents from NGOs?
Chapter 12
"SINGLE PARENTHOOD – MY LIFE” based on memoirs and journals of single mothers ................................................................. 390
1. Reasons for single motherhood .............................................. 391
2. Psychological and health effects of family break up for a single mother and children .................................................................. 392
3. Financial impact of family break up ......................................... 394
   3.1. Income, income management and expenses ..................... 394
   3.2. Satisfaction of living, educational and health needs of children 396
4. Family interrelations: mother and children ......................... 397
5. Children position at school and vis-a-vis their peers ............. 398
6. Family and social exclusion .............................................. 400
7. Occupational activity and exclusion from labour market ......... 402
8. Reconciliation of work with family duties ......................... 403
9. Exclusion from social services including childcare services ... 404
10. Own efforts taken to improve financial position and to fight with social exclusion ................................................................ 406
11. Family and institutional assistance including survivors’ benefit paid to the surviving spouse and child support ....................... 407
12. Evaluation of government policy on broken families with children 408
13. Perception of single parents by the general public in the opinion of female authoress of memoirs/journals ...................................... 410

CONCLUSIONS ........................................................................ 412
Closing remarks .................................................................... 412

BIBLIOGRAPHY ..................................................................... 432

SUMMARY ............................................................................... 441