TRADING AS A BUSINESS

The Methods and Rules I’ve Used to Beat the Markets for 40 Years

Dick Diamond

WILEY
CONTENTS

Foreword ix
   Robert Prechter
Preface xi
Acknowledgments xiii

CHAPTER 1  My Life as a Trader  1
   Trading as a Business  5

CHAPTER 2  Emotional Discipline  9
   Why Traders Fail  11
   Core Position and 80/20 Trades  12
   The Emotions of Trading  13
   The Importance of Commitment  15

CHAPTER 3  Principles of Successful Trading  17
   Trade within Your Capital  17
   Quiet Confidence  18
   Sell Too Soon, Not Too Late  19
   Take Personal Responsibility for Your Trading  21
   Wait for 80/20 Trades  21
   Play Great Defense  22
   Pull the Trigger  22
   Opinions Are for Pundits, Not Traders  23
Strictly Follow Technical Data
Market Entry Tactics: Use Limit Orders, Buy/Sell Zones, and Position Scaling
Use Defensive Stops
Track Your Results
Managing Your Trading Account
Take Advantage of Market Conditions
Review the Rules Every Week

CHAPTER 4  Technical Analysis and Trading Concepts
Moving Averages
Crossovers
Divergences
Williams %R
Stochastic Oscillator
Stochastic Momentum
Bressert
RMO
Moving Ribbons

CHAPTER 5  Trading with the Moving Average Template

CHAPTER 6  Trading with the Moving Ribbons Template

CHAPTER 7  Trading with the Bressert Template

CHAPTER 8  Trading with the RMO Template

CHAPTER 9  A Day of Trading

Appendix: About MetaStock Pro Templates
Creating the Dick Diamond Templates
Template 1: Walter Bressert
Template 2: Moving Ribbons
Template 3: RMO
Template 4: Moving Averages
Applying an Existing Template
Making Changes to a Template 129
Saving a Template 129
The Default Template 130
Creating the Diamond Work Space 131

About the Author 135
Index 137