

THEORIES OF DEVELOPMENT

Contentions, Arguments, Alternatives

THIRD EDITION

Richard Peet
Elaine Hartwick

THE GUILFORD PRESS
New York London

Contents

CHAPTER 1. Introduction: Growth versus Development	1
The Geography of Development	5
Measuring Growth and Development	6
Alternative Benchmarks	11
Criticisms of Development Measures	12
The Faces of Poverty	14
Contentions over Development	16
PART I. CONVENTIONAL THEORIES OF DEVELOPMENT	23
CHAPTER 2. Classical and Neoclassical Economics	25
Enlightenment Origins of Political Economy	26
The British Enlightenment	29
The Classical Economists	32
Adam Smith: Beginnings	33
Godwin and Malthus	36
Utilitarianism	37
Ricardian Calculations	38
Mill's Ethical Economics	42
List's Skepticism	45
Critique of Classical Economics	45
Ricardo Was Wrong	47

Neoclassical Economics	51
Critique of Neoclassical Economics	56
CHAPTER 3. From Keynesian Economics to Neoliberalism	63
Dynamic Analysis	64
Keynesian Economics	66
Keynesian Monetary and Fiscal Policy	67
Keynesian Social Democracy	68
Keynesian Growth Theory	70
New Growth Theory	72
The Developmental State	75
Structuralism and Import-Substitution	76
Development Economics: Balanced Growth	80
Unbalanced Growth	83
The Counterrevolution
in Development Economics	86
Crisis in Keynesian Economics	89
Neoliberalism	90
Neoliberalism in Economic Policy	98
World Bank Policy	101
Benevolent Consensus	105
Millennium Development Goals	107
Debt Relief	110
A Critique of Neoliberal Development	112
CHAPTER 4. Development as Modernization	119
Naturalism	121
Rationalism	123
Civilized Development	127
Structural Functionalism	129
The Parsonian Synthesis	132
Critique of Structural Functionalism	135
Sociological Modernization Theory	138
Economic Modernization Theory	140
Psychocultural Theories of Modernization	141
Historical Stages of Modernization	143
Modernization Surfaces	146
Critique of the Modernization Approach	148
The Return of Modernization	151
The Eternal Return of Jeffrey Sachs	153
Critique of Sachs	155
Critique of Modernization	158

PART II. NONCONVENTIONAL, CRITICAL THEORIES OF DEVELOPMENT 161

CHAPTER 5. Marxism, Socialism, and Development 163

- Idealism and Materialism 164
- Dialectics 166
- Production as the Transformation of Nature 167
- Production as Social Relations 169
- Capital 170
- Mode of Production 175
- Development as Social Transformation 178
- Structural Marxism 180
- Imperialism 183
- Dependency Theory 188
- World-Systems Theory 194
- Regulation Theory 199
- Criticisms of Marxist
and Neo-Marxist Theories 204
- The Marxist Reply 208
- Socialist Development in the USSR 210
- Cuba 213
- Venezuela 216
- Conclusion: Development in Contention 220

CHAPTER 6. Poststructuralism, Postcolonialism, and Postdevelopmentism 222

- The Enlightenment and Its Critics 224
- Post-Enlightenment Criticisms 228
- Power–Truth–Knowledge 229
- Postcolonialism 234
- Intellectual Dependency Theory 238
- Rethinking Development 240
- The Poststructural Turn in Development Studies 244
- Encountering Development 248
- Postdevelopmentalism 254
- Conclusion: Countercritique 258

CHAPTER 7. Feminist Theories of Development 269

- Feminist Epistemology 272
- Feminist Criticisms of Development Theory 280
- Women, Development, and Theory 282

Women in Development	284
Women and Development	289
Gender and Development	298
Women, Environment, and Development	300
Postmodernism and Development	302
Critique: A Failure of Nerve?	303
PART III. CRITICAL MODERNISM	307
CHAPTER 8. Critical Modernism and Democratic Development	309
Alternatives	310
Critical Modernism	313
Democratic Development	314
Ethics	317
Social Movements	318
Linkages	319
Radical Democracy	320
References	325
Index	353
About the Authors	370