
Access to Microfinance and Financial Training for Innovative Urban
Sustainability:
Collective Investments at the Bottom of the Pyramid Segment in Urban Kenya

Emmanuel Musau Mutisya

*Langa Research & Publishing CIG
Mankon, Bamenda*

Table of Contents

List of Tables	ix
List of Figures	xi
List of Pictures	xiii
List of Abbreviations	xv
Overview	xix
1. Introduction	1
Theoretical Background.....	7
Problem Statement	11
Research Objectives	14
Research Questions	15
Key Concepts.....	17
Thesis Disposition.....	19
2. Literature Review	27
Rapid Urbanization and the Growth of Slums.....	27
Rapid urbanization in Kenya: Historical perspectives and current realities.....	28
Growth of slums and current approaches to slums Development.....	36
Government initiatives on urban development policy.....	39
Community participation for urban sustainability.....	42
Microfinance for Sustainable Urban Development in Kenya.....	43
Overview of microfinance in Kenya.....	46
Determinants and challenges of microfinance.....	55
The role of microfinance in urban development.....	58
Microfinance and training.....	59
Microfinance and doing business in Kenya.....	63
Microfinance and private-public collaboration on urban service delivery.....	67
Strategic policy impacts of microfinance and training.....	72

Summary.....	76
3. A Description of Reality: The Case Of Kibera Slum....	81
The City of Nairobi.....	81
Informal Settlements in Nairobi City.....	83
Dynamics of Informal Settlements - the Case of Kibera Slum.....	88
Sustainability Challenges in Kibera slum.....	95
Players and Actors in Kibera slum.....	109
Public Services and Infrastructural Development in Kibera Slum.....	119
Microfinance Institutions, Projects and Programs in Kibera Slum.....	121
The Role of BOP Segment in Kibera Slum Development....	128
Summary.....	131
4. Statistical Analysis Of Microfinance In Kibera Slum....	135
Methodology.....	135
Data.....	136
Focus groups for qualitative assessment.....	136
Administration of questionnaires.....	137
Monitoring and intervention.....	139
Empirical Analysis.....	143
Choice of impact evaluation method.....	145
The PSM-DD approach.....	147
Double Difference estimation.....	149
Research Findings.....	150
Distribution and summary statistics.....	151
Impact of access to financial services.....	159
Impacts of financial training.....	170
Discussions of Impacts of Access to MF and Financial Training.....	179
Access to MF results.....	179
Access to financial training results.....	180
Summary.....	182

5. Collective Investment Model For The Urban Bop Segment.....	187
The Collective Investment model: A Viable Alternative.....	188
Empirical Evidence from Kibera Slum.....	192
The Case of K-Rep Bank Water and Sanitation Project.....	195
CIM Financial Structure for Urban BOP.....	197
CIM for Integrated Sanitation in Slums.....	199
Multiple Benefits.....	203
Summary.....	205
6. Conclusions and Implications.....	209
Conclusions.....	209
Research Implications.....	213
Implications for business and policy.....	213
Implications for sustainability.....	214
Research limitations.....	216
Suggestions for further research.....	216
Cited References.....	219
Appendixes.....	239