The Economics of Immigration

Cynthia Bansak, Nicole B. Simpson and Madeline Zavodny
Contents

List of figures x
List of tables xiii
List of boxes xv
Preface xvi

PART 1
Trends in Immigration 1

1 Why Study the Economics of Immigration? 3
   Types of immigrants 5
   Immigration is controversial 7
   Immigration versus international trade 7
   Immigration policy 8
   Economics of immigration terminology 9
   A basic model of immigration 11
   A global overview of immigration 13
   An overview of U.S. immigration 15
   The rest of this book 16
   What this book does not cover 17
   Appendix 20

2 Why People Become Immigrants 24
   Where are immigrants from? 24
   Push and pull factors 25
   The role of immigration policy 28
   Migration costs 30
   Immigration paradigms 32
   The migration decision 33
   The gravity model of migration 40
   Empirical evidence 41
Contents

3 Where Immigrants Go and For How Long 50
  Immigrant destinations 50
  Immigration to poor countries 56
  Differences across types of immigrants 56
  Immigrant destinations within countries 62
  Welfare magnets? 66
  Return and repeat migration 68

PART 2
Immigrant Selection and Assimilation 77

4 Selection in Immigration 79
  The Roy model 80
  Measuring income inequality and the return to skill 86
  Selection on health 95
  Selection in return migration 96
  Final thoughts on selection 100
  Appendix 103

5 Assimilation 104
  Labor market assimilation
  Participation in public assistance programs 115
  Location choice and enclaves 116
  Education 118
  Language 119
  Marriage and fertility 120
  Health 122
  Naturalization 123
  Final thoughts on assimilation 125

6 The Second Generation 130
  Measuring intergenerational mobility 131
  Intergenerational mobility among immigrants in the labor market 133
  Issues in measuring intergenerational mobility among immigrants 138
  Intergenerational mobility in education 139
  Language proficiency 142
  Marriage and fertility 143
  Ethnic identity 144
  Final thoughts on the second generation 146
PART 3

Labor Market Effects of Immigration

7 Labor Market Effects of Immigration: theory

Immigration model 154
Immigration model with costs 156
Upward-sloping labor supply when immigrants and natives are perfect substitutes 158
Labor demand 159
Upward-sloping labor supply when immigrants and natives are complements 160
Unskilled and skilled labor 161
Elasticity of substitution between different types of workers 164
Physical capital 165
Open versus closed economy 166
Final thoughts on the empirical labor market effects 168
Appendix 169

8 Labor Market Effects of Immigration: evidence

Brief review of theory 175
Empirical approaches 175
Other channels of labor market adjustment 185
Effects on previous immigrants 188
Concluding thoughts 188

PART 4

Other Effects of Immigration

9 Effects on Other Markets in the Destination

Housing 195
Prices of goods and services 198
Product diversity 199
International trade 201
Financial markets 202
Physical capital investment 203
Technology and innovation 204
Income 205
Income inequality 206
Growth accounting 207
Final thoughts 210
Appendix 213
10 Fiscal Effects

Measuring the fiscal impact 215
Estimates of the fiscal impact of immigration 220
U.S. immigrants' participation in government-funded programs 227
Final thoughts on fiscal effects 232

11 Effects on Source Countries

Labor market consequences of emigration for the source country 238
Emigration and human capital: brain drain or brain gain? 239
Remittances 245
Evidence on the impact of remittances 249
Impacts on political, economic and social institutions 251
Final thoughts on source countries 253

PART 5
Frontiers in Immigration Research

12 Frontiers in the Economics of Immigration

Happiness 261
Education 264
Health 266
Fertility 267
Crime 268
Human trafficking 272
Final thoughts on frontiers 275

PART 6
Immigration Policy

13 U.S. Immigration Policy

The evolution of U.S. immigration policy 283
Current immigration policy 289
Final thoughts on U.S. immigration policy 298

14 Immigration Policy around the World

Brief recap of U.S. immigration policy 302
Point-based systems 303
European Union 309
Guest worker programs 313
Refugee policies 318
Legalization policies 323
Policies regarding immigrants after arrival 324
Final thoughts 325

Index 329