Sustainable Luxury
MANAGING SOCIAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL PERFORMANCE IN ICONIC BRANDS

EDITED BY MIGUEL ANGEL GARDETTI AND ANA LAURA TORRES
Contents

Foreword .......................................................................................................................... vii
  María Eugenia Girón

Introduction ..................................................................................................................... 1
  Miguel Angel Gardetti and Ana Laura Torres

PART I: ............................................................................................................................. 11

  1 Is sustainable luxury fashion possible? ................................................................. 12
     Frédéric Godart and Sorah Seong

  2 Fake remake: The role of the luxury fashion market in driving sustainable fashion practices ............................................................... 28
     Angela Finn and Kim Fraser

  3 Luxury marketing strategies related to ethical sourcing .................................... 43
     Catarina Holmsten-Carrizo and Cecilia Mark-Herbert

PART II: ............................................................................................................................. 55

  4 Redefining luxury in the 21st century: where was yours made? A case study of Made in San Francisco ............................................. 56
     Connie Ulasewicz

  5 Sustainable consumption: Luxury branding as a catalyst for social change ......................... 68
     Gjoko Muratovski
6 Luxury versus conscious consumption: are they really paradoxical? A study of Brazilian and Portuguese luxury consumer behaviour ............................................. 80
Ana Carolina De Pierro Bruno and Edgard Barki

7 Are luxury purchasers really insensitive to sustainable development? New insights from research ............................ 94
Jean-Noël Kapferer and Anne Michaut-Denizeau

PART III: ........................................................................................................ 109

8 Luxury Lodges New Zealand and prospects for elegant disruption ................................................................. 110
Martin Perry

9 Diversity of human capital as a driver for corporate responsibility engagement: The case of the luxury industry ............. 130
Catarina Pessanha Gomes and Masaru Yarime

10 The wild side of luxury: Can nature continue to sustain the luxury industry? ......................................................... 145
Xenya Cherry-Scanlon

About the editors ........................................................................................................ 163