Asymmetric Crisis in Europe and Possible Futures
Critical political economy and post-Keynesian perspectives

Edited by
Johannes Jäger and Elisabeth Springler
Contents

List of illustrations
List of contributors
Acknowledgement
Abbreviations

Debating the future of Europe: Critical political economy and post-Keynesian perspectives
JOHANNES JÄGER AND ELISABETH SPRINGLER

PART I

The European crisis in a global perspective

1. The crisis of European integration and economic reason: Orthodoxy versus heterodoxy
   MAGNUS RYNER
   17

2. Linking a post-Keynesian approach to critical political economy: Debt-driven growth, export-driven growth and the crisis in Europe
   ENGELBERT STOCKHAMMER AND KARSTEN KÖHLER
   34

3. Banking or macroeconomic regulation?: Cross-border issues in the EU crisis
   JAN TOPOROWSKI
   50

4. The European crisis and the rise of German power
   ALAN CAFRUNY
   61
PART II
The uneven nature of European integration, European crisis, and crisis management

5 Uneven and dependent development in Europe: The crisis and its implications
JOACHIM BECKER, JOHANNES JÄGER AND RUDY WEISSENBACHER

6 Uneven development and ‘European crisis constitutionalism’, or the reasons for and conditions of a ‘passive revolution in trouble’
HANS-JÜRGEN BIELING

7 Enhancing ‘competitiveness’ in response to the European crisis: A wrong and dangerous obsession
ANGELA WIGGER

8 Confronting the failure of the European Monetary Union
HEINER FLASSBECK AND COSTAS LAPAVITSAS

PART III
Possible futures

9 Which future for Europe?: A scenario analysis of European integration
TORSTEN NIECHOJ

10 Social Europe and the crisis of the European Union
JOHN GRAHL

11 From new constitutionalism to authoritarian constitutionalism: New Economic Governance and the state of European democracy
LUKAS OBERNDORFER

12 Labour and the crisis in Europe
MÓNICA CLUA-LOSADA AND LAURA HORN

13 Conclusions and possible futures
JOHANNES JÄGER AND ELISABETH SPRINGLER

Index