Contemporary Approaches of International Business Management, Economics, and Social Research

Prof. Dr. Josef Neuert (Hrsg.)

Volume 1

Institut für Managementforschung und Organisationsentwicklung
DIPLOMA Hochschule Europäisches Hochschul-Consortium

Institute for Management Research and Organizational Development
DIPLOMA University European Universities Consortium
Table of Contents

Hans-Jürgen Brenninger: Company Value and Employee Satisfaction: Conclusions and Managerial Implications ......................................................................................................................... 4

Carolin Egger: Towards a Categorization of Influencing Factors for Innovation in Organizations ..... 11

Helene Eller: Challenges on the Implementation of Corporate Governance in NPOs: Empirical Research on Alpine Clubs ............................................................................................................. 20

Malcolm Gammisch: Value Add of Compliance Management Systems: Insights generated by an Experimental Approach .................................................................................................................. 29

Ludwig Gold: Organizational Culture Aspects in Strategy Implementation ......................................................... 33

Josef Neuer, Manuel Woschank: The Logic of Planning and Decision Making Behaviour in Business Management - Scientific, praxeological, and pedagogical implications from an experimental investigation into decision making rationality and decision making efficiency .......................................................... 39

Hans-Peter Oehl: Conception of a 3-D Portfolio for Firm Life Cycle Approaches ........................................... 56

Christin Richter: What are the Drivers of an Adequate Risk Culture in a Financial Institution? An Analysis of the German Financial Market .................................................................. 65

Günter Salchner: Regional Governance and Rural Tourism Development: The Lechweg Case Study .................................................................................................................................................. 78

Katharina Silberbauer: Theoretical Framework for Dual-Career Couples during International Assignments ................................................................................................................................. 87

Markus Spriestersbach: Ethics Education as Part of Curricula in Business Study Paths at Universities of Applied Sciences and its Relevance for Organizational Theory .................................................................................................................. 91

Christoph Staita: Coherent Team Structure in a Three Dimensional CAD New Product Development (NEW PD) Environment Research Design ........................................................................... 104

Karin Steiner: Approaches in Managing Risks of Strategic Downsizing ........................................................................ 115

Marion Tenge: Public Social Software Platforms as Extension of Airport Organizations: A Social Capital Approach for Building Organizational Performance ................................................................. 123

Michael Toedt: The Role of Communication within Customer Relationship Marketing in the Hotel Business: How Communication Influences the Booking Behavior of Hotel Customers ................................................................. 133

Jens Wingenfeld: Passive Investment Management: A Rational Theoretical Defense ................................................................. 143

Manuel Woschank: The Importance of Knowledge Management in Logistics Processes: Theoretical Framework and Preliminary Model Development ........................................................................... 154