CONTENTS

Series Editor's Introduction
Vladimir Zwass
vii

Foreword
Thomas H. Davenport
xi

1. Consolidating Knowledge on the Journey of Business Process Transformation
M. Lynne Markus and Varun Grover
1

Part I. Tracing Business Processes and Transformation

2. Whatever Happened to Business Process Reengineering? The Rise, Fall, and Possible Revival of Business Process Reengineering from the Organizing Vision Perspective
Ping Wang
23

3. Business Processes: Four Perspectives
Nuno Melão and Michael Pidd
41

Part II. Fundamental Approaches to the Analysis and Redesign of Business Processes

4. The Bug Fixing Process in Proprietary and Free/Libre Open Source Software: A Coordination Theory Analysis
Kevin Crowston
69

5. Transforming Business Process Transformation with Diagnostic Knowledge-Based Tools
Mark E. Nissen
101

Part III. The Role of Information Technology in Organizational Change

Ann Majchrzak
125

7. ERP-Enabled Business Process Reengineering: Implications from Texas Instruments
Joseph Sarkis and R.P. Sundarraj
141
CONTENTS

Part IV. Transformation Across a Spectrum of Business Processes

   Omar A. El Sawy
   Page 157

   Anne P. Massey, Mitzi Montoya-Weiss, and Tony M. O’Driscoll
   Page 185

10. Business Network Redesign Methodologies in Action
    Rainer Alt
    Page 207

Part V. Success and Failure in Business Process Transformation

    Dursun Delen and Nikunj Dalal
    Page 237

12. A Case Study of Business Process Reengineering Failure
    Suprateek Sarker and Allen S. Lee
    Page 251

Part VI. Trends and Challenges in Transforming Business Processes

    Leslie P. Willcocks, Mary Lacity, and David Feeny
    Page 275

14. Problems in the Transfer of Reengineering Efforts: An Illustrative Case
    Sue Newell, Linda Edelman, Harry Scarbrough, Jacky Swan, and Mike Bresnen
    Page 301

15. Process Management, Technological Innovation, and Organizational Adaptation
    Mary J. Benner and Michael Tushman
    Page 317

Editors and Contributors
Page 327
Series Editor
Page 335
Index
Page 337