CONTENTS

List of Illustrations

List of Tables

List of Contributors

Acknowledgements

1 Introduction
_Erika Rappaport, Sandra Trudgen Dawson and Mark J. Crowley_

2 Who is the Queer Consumer? Historical Perspectives on Capitalism and Homosexuality
_Justin Bengry_

3 ‘Healthier and Better Clothes for Men’: Men’s Dress Reform in Interwar Britain
_Ina Zweiniger-Bargielowska_

4 Selling, Consuming and Becoming the Beautiful Man in Britain: The 1930s and 1940s
_Paul R. Deslandes_
5 Rational Recreation in the Age of Affluence: The Café and Working-Class Youth in London, c. 1939–65
Kate Bradley

6 Teenagers, Photography and Self-Fashioning, 1956–65
Penny Tinkler

7 Unwanted Consumers: Violence and Consumption in British Football in the 1970s
Brett Bebber

Part II: In and Beyond the Nation: The Local and the Global in the Production of Consumer Cultures

Stefan Schwarzkopf

9 Drink Empire Tea: Gender, Conservative Politics and Imperial Consumerism in Inter-war Britain
Erika Rappaport

10 Female Credit Customers, the United Africa Company and Consumer Markets in Postwar Ghana
Bianca Murillo

11 Designing Consumer Society: Citizens and Housing Plans during World War II
Sandra Trudgen Dawson

12 Saving for the Nation: The Post Office and National Consumerism, c. 1860–1945
Mark J. Crowley

13 Prosperity for All? Britain and Mass Consumption in Western Europe after World War II
Kenneth Mouré

Peter Gurney