Disability and Poverty in the Global South
Renegotiating Development in Guatemala

Shaun Grech
Director, The Critical Institute, Malta
Contents

List of Figures and Maps vii
Acknowledgements viii
Terminology ix
List of Acronyms and Abbreviations xi

1 Disability, Poverty and Development: Mapping the Terrain 1
   International development meets disability: (dis)encounters 1
   Beyond the rhetoric: disjuncture 7
   Disability studies ‘meets’ the global South: on Eurocentric disciplining 11
   ‘Disability and development’: cool lingo, but where’s it all going? 13
   This book: objectives, trajectories and approaches 22
   This book is not ... some caveats 25
   Mapping things out 26

2 Guatemala: Landscapes 28
   Guatemala: context, space and place 28
   Historicising: a brief and partial reading 34
   From colonial to neocolonial 37
   Disability in Guatemala 44

3 Disability in the Spaces of Poverty: Critical Theoretical Introductions 53
   We’re all poor here! Multifaceted, dynamic, shared poverty 54
   Defining disability: complex fluid terrains 56
   Personhood interruptus: embodied experiences, fissures in ‘normality’ 62
   God: an affordable painkiller 69
   Disability is heterogeneous 73
   Gendered experiences: power, ideology and (re)presentation 80
   Attitudes: differential, hybrid and hybridising 87

4 Disability and Poverty: Connections and Transitions 96
   Disability and poverty: not a cycle 96
Contents

Repositioning a tricky relationship: a fluid dynamic association 101
On family impoverishment 103
Becoming 'poorer': intersecting poverty dynamics 105
Impaired mobility: the price of isolation 107
Livelihoods: from fragmentation to destruction 113
Brief pause 132

5 Disability and Poverty: Connections and Transitions Part 2 133
Money matters: the financial costs of disability 133
Bodies of pain: on health-care barriers 144
Education: no panacea 160

6 The Disabled Family: From Survival Struggles to Collective Impoverishment 171
Lucha no libre: coping strategies or desperate responses? 172
Shifting production patterns: onto the fallow land 174
Reduced consumption: tightening the belt below the breadline 176
From hard to harder: changing family labour 184
It all goes: the trail of asset disposal 197
Debt bondage and intergenerational poverty 200
Intensifying demands on family: handouts for subsistence 203

7 The Politics of Indifference and the Poverty of Policy 206
Social apartheid: on poverty and race in Guatemala 206
The organisations the poor know 213
The politics of indifference and the poverty of policy 215
Disability organisations: the national and international scenario 229
Non-disability-specific spaces: more organisational silence 242
Communities of poverty and the saving hand of charity 249

8 Final Reflections 259
Rights, policies, more rights: can we eat rights? 259
Reflecting outwards: the call for a Critical Global Disability Studies 266

Notes 270
References 277
Index 295