Contents

List of illustrations vii
List of contributors viii
Acknowledgement xiv

1 Introduction
KATHY HAMILTON, SUSAN DUNNETT AND MARIA PIACENTINI

PART I
Mapping the domain of consumer vulnerability 11

2 Consumer vulnerability: foundations, phenomena, and future investigations 13
STACEY MENZEL BAKER, MONICA LABARGE AND COURTNEY NATIONS BAKER

3 An inclusive approach to consumer vulnerability: exploring the contributions of intersectionality 31
BIGE SAATCIIOGLU AND CANAN CORUS

4 A story of The Uncondemned: seeking justice and empowerment in marketed representations of vulnerability 43
CATHERINE A. COLEMAN

5 Asking for trouble: reflections on researching bereaved consumers 55
DARACH TURLEY

6 Consumer vulnerability is market failure 66
JONATHAN STEARN
PART II
Consumer vulnerability and key life stages

7 Children as vulnerable consumers
AGNES NAIRN

8 Consuming childhood grief
STEPHANIE O’DONOHOE

9 An adolescent-centric approach to consumer vulnerability: new implications for public policy
WIDED BATAT

10 Care leavers’ transitions to adulthood: challenges to self in adapting to new consumer roles
SALLY HIBBERT, MARIA PIACENTINI AND MARGARET K. HOGG

11 Older people: citizens in a consumer society
ROGER CLOUGH

PART III
Consumer vulnerability, health and wellbeing

12 Health shocks, identity and consumer vulnerability
MARLYS J. MASON AND TERESA PAVIA

13 Social exclusion: a perspective on consumers with disabilities
CAROL KAUFMAN-SCARBOROUGH

PART IV
Consumer vulnerability, poverty and exclusion

14 Towards an understanding of religion-related vulnerability in consumer society
ALIAKBAR JAFARI

15 Descent into financial difficulty and the role of consumer credit
ANDREA FINNEY

16 Poverty, shame and the vulnerable consumer
ELAINE CHASE AND ROBERT WALKER

17 Poverty-proofing the school day
SARA BRYSON AND STEPHEN CROSSLEY

Index