Making Things Valuable

Edited by
Martin Kornberger, Lise Justesen,
Anders Koed Madsen, and Jan Mouritsen
Contents

List of Figures vii
List of Tables ix
List of Contributors xi

Introduction: Making Things Valuable 1
Martin Kornberger, Lise Justesen, Anders Koed Madsen, and Jan Mouritsen

1. Noticing Numbers: How Quantification Changes What We See and What We Don’t 18
Wendy Nelson Espeland and Stacy E. Lom

2. Value in the Age of Doubt: Accounting as a Maieutic Machine 38
Paolo Quattrone

3. Rating Reports as Figuring Documents: How Credit Rating Agencies Build Scenarios of the Future 62
Pierre Pénet

Neil Pollock and Gian Marco Campagnolo

Liliana Doganova and Fabian Muniesa

6. Valuable Assemblages—Or Assembling Values 126
Trine Pallesen

7. Valuation Devices’ Orientation to Each Other: Imitation and Differentiation among Devices Valuing Companies’ Social and Environmental Performance 148
Sabina Du Rietz

8. What Is a Catastrophe Model Worth? The (e)Valuative Practices of Cat Analysts in Insurance Companies 167
Laure Cabantous and Théodora Dupont-Courtade
Contents

9. The Enactment of Economic Things: The Objects of Insurance
   José Ossandón 187

10. The Politics of Values: A Case Study of ‘Conflict-Free’ Gold
    Juliane Reinecke 209

11. Notes on Objectual Valuation
    Celia Lury and Noortje Marres 232

12. Tracing Data—Paying Attention: Interpreting Digital Methods
    Through Valuation Studies and Gibson’s Theory of Perception
    Anders Koed Madsen 257

Index 279