Writing Neoliberal Values

Rhetorical Connectivities and Globalized Capitalism

Rachel C. Riedner
Associate Professor of Writing and Women's Studies, George Washington University, USA
Contents

Preface ix
Acknowledgments xvi

1 Writing Value in a Neoliberal World: Necropolitics and Affective Rhetoric 1
2 Transnational Ghosts: Regimes of Friendship, Neoliberal Abandonment, and Discourses of Mourning 33
3 Lives of Infamous Women: Gender, Political Economy, Nation-State Power, and Persuasion in the Neoliberal World 57
4 Writing Women’s Capacities in Cape Town’s Urban Gardens: Gendered Survival Practices and Transnational Feminist Literacies 80
5 From Spectacle to Crisis of Feeling: Slow Violence, Affective Rhetoric, and the Case of Caster Semenya 99

Afterword: Writing Neoliberal Values: Literacies of Necropolitical Violence 124

Notes 131
Bibliography 149
Index 159