Chapter 1. Preparing for the Unexpected: Design of the Future
Global Enterprise ................................................................. 7
Poul Houman Andersen and Jakob Lauring

Chapter 2. Open-minded or Self-sufficient? Challenges of Exporting the Danish Management Style to Foreign Business
Units .......................................................................................... 21
Anders Klitmøller, Jakob Lauring and Annamaria Kubovcikova

Chapter 3. Being Close at a Distance: Exploring Technological,
Temporal, and Linguistic Challenges to Global Virtual Team
Effectiveness ............................................................................. 45
Rikke Lindekilde and Anders Klitmøller

Chapter 4. Parent Company Arrogance: Perceptions and Consequences ........................................................................... 67
Jakob Lauring, Poul Houman Andersen, Hanne Kragh and Marianne
Storgaard

Chapter 5. Retention of Highly Skilled Expatriates and the Danish Work-life Balance ............................................................ 95
Jan Normann and Toke Bjerregaard

Chapter 6. ‘Flexpatriation’: A View from the Engine Room of Sub-
Suppliers in the Maritime Sector ................................................ 119
Mona Toft Madsen and Morten Rask

Chapter 7. Translating Private Equity in Denmark: The Impact of the TDC Buy-out on the Danish Private Equity Industry .............. 137
Robson Rocha and Duncan Wigan
Chapter 8. Managing Strategic Transition in an Age of Accelerating Globalization ......................................................... 157
Poul Houman Andersen and Hanne Kragh

Mai S. Linneberg and Poul Houman Andersen

Chapter 10. Sourcing Intermediary Profiles in the Global Clothing Industry ........................................................................... 213
Chris Ellegaard and Mette Vedel

Chapter 11. Models of International Entrepreneurship .................................................. 237
Morten Rask and Per Servais

Chapter 12. Preparing for the Unexpected: Some Tentative Answers ......................................................................................... 255
Hanne Kragh, Poul Houman Andersen and Jakob Lauring

Author Biographies, List of Figures and List of Tables .................................. 271

Subject index ................................................................................................ 279