Doing Public Good?

PRIVATE ACTORS, EVALUATION, AND PUBLIC VALUE

Comparative Policy Evaluation, Volume 23

R. Pablo Guerrero O. and Peter Wilkins, editors
With a foreword by Ray C. Rist

Transaction Publishers
New Brunswick (U.S.A.) and London (U.K.)
Contents

Foreword, Ray C. Rist vii

Preface, R. Pablo Guerrero O. and Peter Wilkins ix

Part I: Concepts, Questions, and Context

1 The Provision and Evaluation of Public Services by Nonpublic Actors: Concepts and Questions 3
   Andrew Gray

2 Three Models of Doing Good: Recognizing the Implications of Delivering Behavior Change and System Transformation 15
   Tom Ling

3 Philanthropy, the State, and Public Goods 29
   Tobias Jung and Jenny Harrow

Part II: Cases

4 Accountability for the Public Policy Contribution of Not-for-Profit Organizations: Who is Accountable to Whom, and for What? 49
   Peter Wilkins and David Gilchrist

5 Achieving Results for Private Actors in Africa 67
   Per Øyvind Bastøe and Elizabeth M. White

6 The Rise of Indigenous African Foundations/Philanthropies and their Development Impact 87
   Andrew O. Asibey
7 How Accountable Are Charitable Organizations: An Empirical Study of International Children's Aid Organizations 99
   David Kirsch and Robert Schwartz

8 The Provision of Public Goods and Services by Socially Oriented Entrepreneurs: Experiences of Indian Health Care 127
   Andrew Gray and Rosalind Miller

9 Social Impact Bonds: The Role of Evaluation 147
   David Gilchrist and Peter Wilkins

10 Being Good, but Doing Good?: The Conrad N. Hilton Foundation's Role in the Provision of Safe Water Supply in Africa 159
    R. Pablo Guerrero O.

11 Reframing “Doing Good”: A Canadian Case Study 175
    Pearl Eliadis

Part III: Conclusions

12 Conclusions 193
    Donald Lemaire

Contributors 203

Index 209