Nikkeiren and Japanese Capitalism

John Crump
Contents

Acknowledgements xi

1 The nature of Japanese capitalism: perceptions and reality 1

2 Japan's bosses in 1945: knocked down but not knocked out 13

3 We're all workers now: ideological and organizational defence (1945–7) 25

4 Counter-attack: teaching the workers who is boss (1948–60) 36

5 Simultaneously applying the accelerator and the brake: high speed growth and the attempt to rein in wages (1961–73) 78

6 Seizing the opportunity: turning the oil shock to the bosses' advantage (1974–80) 100

7 No room for doubt: Japan in a class of its own (1981–91) 118

9 Conclusions: Nikkeiren and Japanese capitalism 157

Select bibliography 167

Index 175