Successful Social Media and Ecommerce Strategies in the Wine Industry

Edited by

Gergely Szolnoki
Senior Research Associate, Institute of Business Administration and Market Research, Geisenheim University

Liz Thach
Professor of Wine Business and Management, Sonoma State University Wine Business Institute and

Dani Kolb
Manager, Kellen Europe
Contents

List of Figures vii
List of Tables ix
Notes on Contributors xi

1 Current Status of Global Wine Ecommerce and Social Media 1
Gergely Szolnoki, Liz Thach, and Dani Kolb

2 Wine on Facebook: A Look at Millennials’ Wine Information Search 13
Lindsey M. Higgins, Marianne McGarry Wolf, and Mitchell J. Wolf

3 Online Communication Approaches and Social Networks in Traditional Wine Regions: A Case Study from Italy 30
Roberta Capitello, Lara Agnoli, and Diego Begalli

4 Word of Mouth Impulses Boost Wines of Germany: A Case Study 55
Frank R. Schulz

5 The Use of Social Media in the Wine Event Industry: A Case Study of the High Country Harvest in Australia 74
Paul Strickland, Kim M. Williams, Jennifer Laing, and Warwick Frost
6 Crowdsourcing in Wine Business: Co-Creation and Fundraising Experiences
   Angela Mariani, Azzurra Annunziata, Francesco Nacchia, and Antonella Vastola

7 Are Customers Having E-Conversations about Your Wine? The Importance of Online Discussion Forums as Electronic Word of Mouth for Wine Marketers
   David L. Dean and Sharon L. Forbes

8 Wine Price Determination in Online Specialized Stores: An Empirical Study for Argentina
   Rodrigo García Arancibia, Edith Depetris Guiguet, and Gustavo Rossini

9 Cross-Cultural Comparison of Social Media Usage in the Wine Industry: Differences between the United States and Germany
   Carsten Hoffmann, Gergely Szolnoki, and Liz Thach

Index