The Perils of Self-Brand Connections

Consumer Response to Changes in Brand Image

by

Tarje Gaustad

A dissertation submitted to BI Norwegian Business School for the degree of PhD

PhD specialization: Marketing

Series of Dissertations 3/2015

BI Norwegian Business School
Table of Contents

1 INTRODUCTION ........................................................................................................... 9

1.1 RESEARCH QUESTION ................................................................................... 11

1.2 OVERVIEW OF THE DISSERTATION ................................................... 12

2 CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK ................................................................................... 14

2.1 SELF-CONCEPT AND IDENTITY ....................................................................... 14

2.2 BRANDS AS IDENTITY MARKERS ..................................................................... 15

   2.2.1 Brands as Signals of Prestige ............................................................... 17

   2.2.2 Brands as Signals of Affiliation ........................................................... 17

   2.2.3 Brands as Signals of Divergence ......................................................... 18

2.3 SELF-BRAND CONNECTION: THE USE OF BRANDS IN SELF-CONSTRUAL ................................................................. 20

   2.3.1 Self-Possession Connection:
          Inclusion of Possessions in the Self ......................................................... 20

   2.3.2 Self-Brand Connection:
          Inclusion of Brands in the Self ............................................................... 21

2.4 CONSUMER MOTIVATIONS FOR SELF-BRAND CONNECTIONS ....... 24

   2.4.1 Ideal Self-Brand Connections to Enhance the Self .............. 25

   2.4.2 Actual Self-Brand Connections to Verify the Self .......... 27

2.5 COMPANY CONSEQUENCES OF SELF-BRAND CONNECTIONS ....... 28

2.6 CONSUMER RESPONSE TO CHANGES IN BRAND IMAGE:
   HYPOTHESES DEVELOPMENT .......................................................................... 30

   2.6.1 Incorporating New Associations in Brand Image .......... 30

   2.6.2 Reinforcing Existing Brand Image Associations ............ 31

   2.6.3 Conceptual Model .................................................................. 33

3 EMPIRICAL EVIDENCE ........................................................................................... 35

3.1 OVERVIEW OF STUDIES .................................................................................. 35

3.2 STUDY 1 .............................................................................................................. 36

   3.2.1 Procedure ....................................................................................... 36

   3.2.2 Measurements .............................................................................. 39

   3.2.3 Data Preparation and Preliminary Tests ....................................... 39

   3.2.4 Results .......................................................................................... 43