Contents

Green practices in hotels: the case of the GreenLeaders Program from TripAdvisor
M. P. Leal Londoño & G. Hernandez-Maskivker .................................................. 1

Ecotourism principles as a framework for culturally responsive community development
A. Sarhan, R. Abdelgalil & Y. Radwan ................................................................. 15

Sustainable ecotourism development in the Muslim community after the impact of the tsunami disaster in 2004: a case study in Bang Rong Village, Phuket Province, Thailand
S. Theingthae ........................................................................................................ 27

Tourism employment and local residents’ engagement in the conservation of the built heritage in Zanzibar Stone Town in Tanzania
N. B. Lwoga ........................................................................................................... 43

Sustainable coastal resource co-management
S. Feruzia & A. Satria .......................................................................................... 57

Beach filling model to improve beach management: a case on the French Atlantic coast (Pertuis Charentais beaches)
V. Guyonnard & L. Vacher .................................................................................. 67

Adaptation processes of peripheral coastal tourism communities in Québec, Canada
D. Lapointe, C. Lebon & A. Guillemard ............................................................... 79

Impacts of climate change on marginalized communities, tourism and their sustainable livelihood in a developing economy
S. Khalil ................................................................................................................ 91
Sustainability reporting among Swedish tourism service providers: information differences between them
A. Sörensson & A.-M. Jansson ................................................................. 103

Carrying capacity as a tool to design tourism policy: case study for the islands of Dodecanese
D. G. Prokopiou, G. Mavridiglou & B. S. Tselentis .................................. 115

Tourist mobility at coastal mass destinations: implications for sustainability
J. A. Ivars, M. A. Celdrán, A. Triviño & J. F. Vera-Rebollo ....................... 127

Managing the digital campaign process for sustainable tourism destinations
Y. Y. Liu & A. Mačerinskenė ................................................................. 139

Development of tourism in the Third World nations: a comparative analysis
A. Sharma & M. Thapar ................................................................. 155

Ghosts of the mountains: the role of wildlife conservation in sustainable tourism – a case study of snow leopard conservation and sustainable tourism in Mongolia
A. Millican ................................................................. 167

Eco-innovation and competitive strategy in global hotel chains: developing a conceptual relationship model
V. O. Menezes & S. K. Cunha ................................................................. 177

Towards optimum energy performance measures for existing hotels in Egypt
A. Aladassy, G. Mosaad & K. Tarabieh ................................................................. 189

A few reflexions about an ethnocentric discourse in the context of international tourism
M. C. A. Pavez ................................................................. 201

Analysis of institutional marine eha and mane’e as community-based (coastal) resources management
Khoirunnisak & A. Satria ................................................................. 211

The Sanità district in Naples: community involvement in developing its heritage value
C. Salomone ................................................................. 223