Contents

List of illustrations vii
Acknowledgement ix
List of contributors x

1 Introduction: A rising China and the future of world resources 1
   FENGSHI WU AND HONGZHOU ZHANG

PART I
Domestic Origins of China’s ‘Go Out’ Policies 21

2 China’s Food Security Strategy Reform: An emerging global agricultural policy 23
   HONGZHOU ZHANG AND GUOQIANG CHENG

3 Debating Energy Security in China: Ideas and policy options 42
   DAOJIONG ZHA

4 China and Shared Water Resources: Geopolitics, domestic institutions and global governance 59
   ZHIFEI LI AND FENGSHI WU

PART II
Global Implications of China’s Resource Quest 79

5 Rethinking Security and Space in Upper Mekong Transboundary Water Projects 81
   LYNN THIESMEYER

6 Food in Sino-U.S. relations: From blessing to curse? 100
   HONGZHOU ZHANG
Contents

7 China’s Energy Interests in Central Asia and Russia: Symbiotic distrust and striking a balance between cooperation and confrontation 119
  ALESSANDRO ARDUINO

8 China’s Energy Quest in Southeast Asia: ‘Mercantilist Rise’ debated 138
  HONG ZHAO

9 Sowing More than Soybeans?: Latin America and the Caribbean’s changing relations with China in agriculture and food production 156
  ADRIANA ERTHAL ABDENUR

10 Conclusion: Findings and notes for policy advocates 173
  FENGSHI WU

Index 186