Contents

List of figures                                       vii
List of tables                                      viii
Notes on contributors                              xi
Preface                                             xiv
Acknowledgements                                   xvii

1 Equity market informational efficiency: history and development
Qaiser Munir and Sook Ching Kok
1

2 Equity market anomalies: concepts, classifications, theories and evidence
Qaiser Munir and Sook Ching Kok
17

3 The random walk hypothesis on the small and medium capitalized segment of the Indian stock market
Vinod Mishra and Russell Smyth
34

4 Stock market index price prediction using predetermined variables: a case study of Malaysia
Qaiser Munir and Sook Ching Kok
49

5 A re-examination of the calendar anomalies during the Asian financial crisis: some empirical evidence from the closure test principle and the EGARCH–mean model
Ricky Chee-Jiun Chia and Shiok Ye Lim
69

6 The mean reversion effect and the contrarian strategy
Tamara Teplova and Evgeniya Mikova
89
vi Elements

7 The momentum effect: pricing paradox or new beta strategy 113
   TAMARA TEPLOVA AND EVGENIYA MIKOVA

8 Momentum returns, market states and financial crises: evidence from China and Hong Kong 138
   MUHAMMAD A. CHEEMA AND GILBERT V. NARTEA

9 The profitability of technical trading rules: empirical application on Asian stock markets 158
   ANDREI ANGHEL AND CRISTIANA TUDOR

10 Technical trading and market efficiency in Asian equity markets 170
   PIYAPAS THARAVANIJ

11 Testing for semi-strong efficiency under stressed market conditions: a comparative focus on Asia, Europe and the United States 186
   MASSIMILIANO SERATI AND ARIANNA ZILIOTTO

12 Technical efficiency and stock performance of listed commercial banks in ASEAN-5 210
   SOK-GEE CHAN

13 Asymmetric effect of political elections on stock returns and volatility in Malaysia 228
   HOOI HOOI LEAN AND GEOK PENG YEAP

Index 246