ECONOMICS
Making Sense of the Modern Economy

4th edition

Edited by Richard Davies
Contents

About the editor ix
Contributors x

Introduction: the everyday science 1

Part 1 MONEY, BANKS AND CRASHES
From evil roots to green shoots 9

1 Money 11
Monetary beginnings: on the origin of specie 11
Strange money: shillings, cows and mobile phones 14
The dollar: the once and future currency: 19
Bitcoin and digital currencies: a new specie 22
China's currency future: trading the yuan 24

2 A history of financial crashes 27
1792: the foundations of modern finance 28
1825: the original emerging-markets crisis 32
1857: the first global crash 35
1907: the bankers' panic 38
1929-33: the big one 41

3 Lessons from the financial crisis 46
The origins of the crisis: crash course 46
The dangers of debt: lending weight 52
Monetary policy after the crash: controlling interest 58
Stimulus v austerity: sovereign doubts 64
Making banks safe: calling to accounts 70
4 Building competitiveness
Taxi markets: a fare fight
Labour markets: insider aiding
Efficient infrastructure: ports in the storm
Job market frictions: mobile moans

Part 2 FIRMS, JOBS AND PAY
How the world works now

5 Evolving firms
Ronald Coase: one of the giants
Surf’s up: merger waves
Megafirms: land of the corporate giants
The goliaths: big firms and volatility
Big firms and competition: corporate sardines

6 Unemployment
Youth unemployment: generation jobless
Boosting employment: go for the churn
Inflation and jobs: the price of getting back to work

7 Pay
Pay and economic growth: a shrinking slice
Pay and leisure time: nice work if you can get out
Minimum wages: the argument in the floor
Wages and performance: making pay work
Shares as pay: turning workers into capitalists

8 Inequality
Long-run inequality: all men are created unequal
Redistribution: inequality v growth
Surnames and social mobility: nomenclacy
Inequality and crashes: body of evidence
Firm size and pay: the bigger, the less fair
Outlaw economics: shifting income from rich to poor
9 Secular stagnation
The stagnation hypothesis: stagnant thinking 160
Demography and growth: no country for young people 164
Escaping stagnation: still, not stagnant 168

Part 3 THE FUTURE OF ECONOMICS
The elderly versus the robots 173

10 Reinventing economics
The man who invented economics: Petty impressive 175
Post-crisis economics: Keynes's new heirs 179
How GDP is measured: boundary problems 182
Joy to the world: is GDP growth the right goal? 185

11 New firms, new economics
Silicon Valley economists: micro stars, macro effects 188
The cutting edge: meet the market shapers 191
Uber's economics: pricing the surge 195
Hidden in the long tail: the boost from e-commerce 198

12 The economics of behaviour
Crime: fine and punishment 201
Noise pollution: shhhh! 205
Shaping behaviour: nudge nudge, think think 207
The lottery: herd mentality 210
The economics of meetings: meeting up 212

13 Tomorrow's economic challenges
Health-care costs: an incurable disease 215
Dwindling R&D: arrested development 219
Big Pharma: zombie patents 223
Innovation: has the ideas machine broken down? 226
Demography: the age invaders 238

14 Robot economics
Machines and work: robocolleague 247
The future of jobs: the onrushing wave 250