MERGERS AND ACQUISITIONS IN PRACTICE

Edited by Shlomo Y. Tarba,
Sir Cary L. Cooper, Riikka M. Sarala,
and Mohammad F. Ahammad

Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK
CONTENTS

List of figures vii
List of tables viii
Notes on contributors ix

1 Mergers and acquisitions in practice: a state-of-art and future directions 1
Shlomo Y. Tarba, Sir Cary L. Cooper, Riikka M. Sarala, and Mohammad F. Ahammad

2 Motives for European mergers and acquisitions: analysis of pre-merger press announcements and post-merger interviews 5
Agyenim Boateng, George Lordofos, and Keith W. Glaister

3 Motives for cross-border mergers and acquisitions: perspective of UK firms 16
Mohammad F. Ahammad, Shlomo Y. Tarba, Keith W. Glaister, Ian P. L. Kwan, Riikka M. Sarala, and Luiz Montanheiro

4 Strategic mergers in the public sector: comparing universities and hospitals 44
Rómulo Pinheiro, Timo Aarrevaara, Laila Nordstrand Berg, Lars Geschwind, and Dag Olaf Torjesen

5 Chinese cross-border M&A into industrialized countries: the case of Chinese acquisitions in Germany 69
Marina Schmitz, Fabian Jintae Froese, and Winno V. Wangenheim
Contents

6 Post-merger integration in the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries: a practical approach
Lars Schweizer

7 Human resource management in the context of mergers and acquisitions
Fang Lee Cooke

8 The role of human resource management practices in mergers and acquisitions
Sut I Wong, Elizabeth Solberg, Paulina Junni, and Steffen Robert Giessner

9 How do communication and cultural differences explain post-merger identification? Evidence from two merged dairy firms
David Kroon

10 Multiple shared identities in cross-border M&As Anna Lupina-Wegener and Rolf van Dick

11 The link between cultural due diligence and sociocultural post-merger integration management as a critical success factor in M&As Natalie Witzmann and Christoph Dörrenbächer

12 Acquisition in the banking sector in the transition process to the market economy
Ruth Alas, Tiit Elenurm, Tiitu Allikmäe, and Riina Varts

13 Does acquisition experience matter? From yes or no to why, when, and how Florian Bauer, Andreas Strobl, and Kurt Matzler

14 Strategic alliances in the organizational and financial literatures: a review
Ian P. L. Kwan

Index