

The Known Economy

Romantics, Rationalists, and the Making of a World Scale

Colin Danby

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK

E·S·R·C
ECONOMIC & SOCIAL
RESEARCH COUNCIL

Centre for Research on Socio-Cultural Change

Contents

List of illustrations	xiii
Preface	xiv
Acknowledgments	xvi
Introduction: Sarkozy versus GDP	1
PART I
The voice of economy	13
Introduction to Part I	15
1 Love or money	17
2 A Jewish economy in Palestine	34
3 Body of the nation	48
4 Shape of the world	67
5 Discovering economies in British Africa	82
6 The IMF makes the world	103
PART II
Romantic responses	115
Introduction to Part II	117
7 Romantic political economy	120
8 Shock of the modern	132
9 Jameson's postmodern	139
10 Spirit of finance	151

PART III

Opening up 159

11 Time and finance 161

12 Numbered things 169

Bibliography 172

Index 195