TOWARDS CONTINENTAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY?

North American Transnational Networks and Governance

EDITED BY
Owen Temby and Peter Stoett

SUNY PRESS
Contents

List of Illustrations ix
List of Tables xi
Foreword xiii
IRASEMA CORONADO
Acknowledgments xvii

1. Research on Transboundary Environmental Governance in North America: New Approaches to Existing and Emerging Challenges PETER STOETT AND OWEN TEMBY 1

PART I: Bilateral and Trilateral Institutional Effectiveness

2. Navigating Overlap Management under NAFTA: The Role of the CEC Secretariat SIKINA JINNAH AND ABBY LINDSAY 31

3. The CEC, Digital Divides, and Participatory Challenges in the U.S.-Mexican Borderlands SUZANNE SIMON 51

4. The Absence of—and Need for—a Transboundary Environmental Impact Assessment Agreement between the United States and Canada OLIVIA COLLINS AND WILLIAM V. KENNEDY 72
PART II: Biodiversity and Natural Resource Governance

5. The Evolution of Natural Resource Conservation Capacity on the U.S.-Mexican Border: Bilateral and Trilateral Environmental Agreements since La Paz
   STEPHEN P. MUMME
   105

   ANDREA OLIVE
   131

7. Institutional Features of U.S.-Canadian Transboundary Fisheries Governance: Organizations and Networks, Formal and Informal
   ANDREW M. SONG, OWEN TEMBY, GAIL KRANTZBERG, AND GORDON M. HICKEY
   156

8. Continental Counter-Invasion: Invasive Species Management in North America
   DEBORÁ VANNIJNATTEN AND PETER STOETT
   180

9. Transnational Networks and Transboundary Water Governance in the Colorado River Delta
   ANDREA K. GERLAK
   203

10. Environmentalists, Natural Resources, and the Fence on the Mexico Boundary
    STEPHEN P. MUMME AND CHRISTOPHER BROWN
    228

PART III: Energy and Climate Change Mitigation

11. The Canadian Oil Sands Policy-Planning Network
    GEORGE A. GONZALEZ
    255

12. U.S.-Mexican Energy Relations: Clean-Energy Integration Falling Behind?
    MARCELA LÓPEZ-VALLEJO
    276

13. Fluid Relations: Hydro Developments, the International Joint Commission, and U.S.-Canadian Border Waters
    DANIEL MACFARLANE
    307
Contents

14. U.S.-Canadian Subnational Electricity Relations: Interests, Institutions, and Interactions 334
IAN H. ROWLANDS

15. The Case for Continental: Examining the Potential for Climate Change Policy Integration in North America 357
MAT HUFF

PETER STOETT AND OWEN TEMBY

Contributors 397

Index 403