Table of contents

Introduction
Julie Reiss

Chapter 1
The Anthropocene sublime: Justin Guariglia’s artwork
Eva Horn

Chapter 2
Art, theory, and the Anthropocene
Martha Schwendener

Chapter 3
Art as destruction: an inquiry into creation
David Haley

Chapter 4
Imaginative engagements: critical reflections on visual arts and climate change
Julie Doyle

Chapter 5
Ecological art—origins, reality, becoming
Paul Ardenne
Translated by Charles Penwarden

Chapter 6
Charting urgency and agency
Jennifer McGregor

Chapter 7
Terra incognita: exhibiting ice in the Anthropocene
Julie Reiss

Chapter 8
Ethical grounds: the aesthetic actions of soil
María Patricia Tinajero

Chapter 9
After nature and culture: plastiglomerate in the age of capital
Weiyi Chang
Chapter 10
Curating digital decay: machines will watch us die
Patrizia Costantin

Chapter 11
A Poem - A Leaf
Alice Momm

Chapter 12
Blued Trees as Policy: art, law, science and the Anthropocene
Aviva Rahmani

Chapter 13
Students being transformed into trees: inverted anthropomorphization in order to enhance connectedness to natural environments and plants
Margaretha Häggström

Notes on the contributors
Index