Table of Contents

List of Plates and Figures

Introduction: A Fresh Vision of the Natural World in Renaissance Italy
Karen Goodchild, April Oettinger, Leopoldine Prosperetti

Part I. Devotional Viridescence

1. The Green Places of Fra Filippo Lippi and Sandro Botticelli
Rebekah Compton

2. Anthropomorphic Trees and Animated Nature in Lorenzo Lotto’s 1509 St. Jerome
April Oettinger

3. ‘Honesta voluptas’: The Renaissance Justification for Enjoyment of the Natural World
Paul Holberton

Part II. Building Green

Jill Pederson

5. Naturalism and Antiquity, Redefined, in Vasari’s Verzure
Karen Hope Goodchild

Natsumi Nonaka

Part III. The Sylvan Exchange

7. Titian: Sylvan Poet
Leopoldine Prosperetti

8. From Venice to Tivoli: Girolamo Muziano and the ‘Invention’ of the Tiburtine Landscape
Patrizia Tosini
9. Of Oak and Elder, Cloud-like Angels, and a Bird’s Nest: The Graphic Interpretations of Titian’s The Death of St. Peter Martyr by Martino Rota, Giovanni Battista Fontana, Valentin Lefebre, John Baptist Jackson, and their Successors
   Sabine Peinelt-Schmidt

10. The Verdant as Violence: The Storm Landscapes of Herman van Swanevelt and Gaspard Dughet
    Susan Russell

Afterword: A Brief Journey Through the Green World of Renaissance Venice
    Paul Barolsky

Works Cited

Index