Contents

List of figures vii
Acknowledgments xi

Introduction
Contested views: the image in the first total war 1
SATISH PADIYAR, PHILIP SHAW AND PHILIPPA SIMPSON

PART 1
Cultures of participation 11

1 The territorial imaginary of the revolutionary and Napoleonic wars 13
KATIE HORNSTEIN

2 Beholder, beheaded: theatrics of the guillotine and the spectacle of rupture 25
STEPHANIE O’ROURKE

3 Smuggled silhouettes: opacity and transparency as visual strategies for negotiating royal sovereignty during the revolutionary and Napoleonic wars 40
ALLISON GOUDIE

4 Wargaming: visualizing conflict in French printed board games 56
RICHARD TAWS

5 Battle lines: drawing, lithography and the casualties of war 71
SUE WALKER
vi Contents

PART 2
War and the image

6 From the Nore: Turner at the mouth of the Thames
RICHARD JOHNS

7 Ghosts and heroes: Girodet and the Ossianic mode in post-revolutionary French art
EMMA BARKER

8 King Ferdinand’s veto: Goya’s The 2nd and 3rd of May 1808 as patriotic failures
SIMON LEE

9 “The most atrocious [acts] one may imagine”: the so-called series of the French invasions and anti-French propaganda during the Peninsular war
FOTEINI VLACHOU

10 The comic view of Johnny Newcome’s Military Adventures
NEIL RAMSEY

PART 3
Cultures of commemoration

11 Reality effects: war, theater and re-enactment around 1800
GILLIAN RUSSELL

12 Ephemeral histories: social commemoration of the revolutionary and Napoleonic wars in the paper collections of Sarah Sophia Banks
ARLENE LEIS

13 Exhibiting the nation’s navy: the foundation of the National Gallery of Naval Art, 1795–1845
CICELY ROBINSON

14 Picturing the battlefield of victory: document, drama, image
SUSAN L. SIEGERFRIED

Notes on contributors

Index