

List of contributors	p. ix
Foreword	p. xviii
Acknowledgements	p. xx
Introduction: Convict Criminology for the future	p. 1
Context is everything: understanding the scholarly, social, and pedagogical origins of Convict Criminology	p. 11
Crossing borders, pushing boundaries and privileging 'marginalised' voices: surviving motherhood and prison	p. 21
Doing time for Convict Criminology	p. 35
Convict counter-information to contest crime-press disinformation	p. 50
In the pool without a life jacket: status fragility and Convict Criminology in the current criminological era	p. 66
A Convict Criminology approach to prisoner families	p. 82
Developing Convict Criminology: notes from Italy	p. 98
It's time!: towards a Southern Convict Criminology	p. 112
University education in prison and Convict Criminology: reflections from a field research study	p. 127
The Convict University project and the autoethnography of the biographical changeover: a case study based on mutual narratives between external and convict students	p. 142
Can the "psychiatric prisoner" speak?: notes from Convict Criminology and Disability Studies	p. 156
Radicalization and experiences of detention
The reaction of the Italian prison administration: in the face of a convict criminologist	p. 186
Rethinking punishment: prison research and the (un)intended challenges of institutional research ethics review	p. 197
Conclusion: what have we learned, and what does the future hold for Convict Criminology?	p. 211
Chronology of the history of Convict Criminology	p. 218
Index	p. 220

Table of Contents provided by Blackwell's Book Services and R.R. Bowker. Used with permission.