

Introduction

The History of Economic Thought

The ignored history of the administrative tradition: the "mirror for princes" tradition

A quintessential (ahistorical) tableau économique to sum up pre- and post-Smith classical paradigms

Frank Knight as institutional economist

From divergence to convergence

Commons as champions of monetary reforms

Chamberlin and oligopoly

The two phases of Kuznets' interest in Schumpeter

The AEA and the radical challenge to American social science

Aspects of Economic Method

On the credentials of methodological pluralism

Some practical aspects of pluralism in economics

What econometrics can and cannot tell us about historical actors: brewing, betting and rationality in London, 1822-44

The Legal-Economic Nexus

Putting the "political" back into political economy

Output categories for a comparative institutional economics

On the changing nature of the public utility concept: a study in the exercise of power and the search for reform

Aspects of Institutional and Post-Keynesian Economics

The institutional economics of Nobel prize winners

The social value theory of

Monetary policy in the 21st century in light of the debate between charalism and moetarism

1935 where we were - where we are 2000

Table of Contents provided by Blackwell's Book Services and R.R. Bowker. Used with permission.